Police discover large stash of stolen goods

By FRANK J. AMATO

WILMINGTON Wilmington Police detectives got a lot more than they bargained for when they got a tip that Charles Ventre, 50, Wilmington had some stolen goods.

Police learned that Ventre had a friend who worked at CVS in Wilmington Plaza. The employee would leave stolen merchandise by the back door for Ventre to retrieve after the store closed.

Saturday, September 25th, after obtaining a search warrant, based on the tip for Ventre's residence, 3 Grove Ave., Wilmington, police discovered merchandise from at least six plaza businesses. Once police discovered the quantity of items, they had to get a truck from the highway department to transport all of the merchandise to the criminal bureau at the Swain School.

Wilmington Police Inspector Dave Sugrue had the tedious task of unpacking the boxes and crates, enough to fill two rooms at the bureau. Monday and Tuesday a steady stream of store managers came in to identify their merchandise.

According to police sources, the goods were collected over a two year period, and that some of the items were taken from locked dumpsters behind the stores.

Items were identified from CVS, Fashion Bug, Harvest Gift Shop, Huntley's Hardware, and Osco Drug.

Many of the items were in new condition with the price tags still attached, Police believe that Ventre was planning a yard sale Saturday morning to sell the goods. Ventre's home is less than one mile from the businesses where the items were taken.

Ventre was charged with receiving stolen property over $250 and held on $5,000 bail over the weekend. Ventre appeared in Woburn District Court Monday, released, and told to stay away from the informant, with whom Ventre was acquainted.

Wilmington police involved

Under age drinkers caught

By FRANK J. AMATO

WILMINGTON The word is out, if you are underage, don't come to Wilmington to buy your alcohol.

Wilmington Police arrested four minors, and two more will be summonsed to court after a 3 day sting operation.

"Cops in Shops" a program funded by a grant from the Governor's Highway Safety Bureau, and coordinated by Kym Craven of the Middlesex County Traffic Safety Program.

The program, places undercover police in liquor stores, and outside looking for minors, as well as people purchasing alcohol for minors .

Saturday, September 18th, as well as Friday and Saturday September 1819th police were watching every liquor store in Wilmington. "The liquor stores were very cooperative and worked with us," said Wilmington Police Inspector Joe Harris, who oversaw the operation.

Friday September 24th, Jared Oravec, 18, Billerica and Christopher R. MacDonald, 19, Wilmington were arrested for being a minor in possession of alcohol. Andrea Toy, 19, Billerica was arrested for a liquor ID violation. A 17 year old will be summonsed to court for being a minor in possession of alcohol, and a 31 year old male for possession of a class D substance.

Saturday, September 25th, Gustin Saggese, 19, Reading, was arrested for being a minor in possession of alcohol. In addition 5 persons were placed into protec-

Board of Selectman / MBTA

Project finalized; town ignored

By PAUL HAYES

WILMINGTON- Is it too late?

The Board of Selectmen want the MBTA to design their 224-space parking lot and commuter rail station according to town specifications, but the time for town input may have run out.

Selectmen at their meeting on Monday directed legislators Rep.'s Jim Miceli and Charles Murphy and Sen. Bruce Tarr to push the MBTA to resume their informal site plan review with the Planning Board.

"We need to get the [MBTA] back to the table [with the Planning Board], whatever it takes," said Selectman Mike Newhouse. "Let's do it."

Yet according to Planning and Conservation director Lynn Duncan, several letters received from the MBTA indicate they have finalized their plans for the commuter rail station, rendering the town's demands moot.

"They're no longer looking at [our] issues," Duncan said. "It appears they think they've done what they can."

According to acting Planning Board Chair Scott Garrant the MBTA have refused to appear with the Planning Board until a revised traffic study is completed. The traffic study was initially requested three years ago, according to a letter written to Garrant.

But while construction work downtown has postponed completion of the traffic study until next year, the MBTA have moved forward on other aspects of the project, including land takings, and completion of design plans.

This progress continues despite a laundry list of outstanding Planning Board concerns, including:

- Request to shorten a proposed 800 to 900 foot handicapped ramp.
- Request for additional short term parking spaces. The MBTA allotted the town 20 shot term spaces but the project will eliminate 10 on-street spaces, resulting in net gain of 10 parking spaces.
- MBTA's failure to submit a maintenance plan, and a snow storage plan.
- MBTA's failure to respond to a Selectman's request for decorative lighting at the proposed commuter rail station.

In his letter, Garrant questions whether these concerns, or the traffic study, can have a meaningful impact on the commuter rail station, "if the town has been eliminated from the [rail station planning] process."

Yet, Miceli said the MBTA remains receptive to legislative input, and said he and MBTA secretary Kevin Sullivan continue hold discussions on the commuter rail station.

"The lines of communication are open, [the MBTA] has been very receptive," Miceli said, to which Murphy added, "we continue to have a voice, we're not irrelevant [to the MBTA]."

Selectmen Dan Wandell said the MBTA should be asked whether plans for the commuter rail station had gone past "the point of no return," the point at which town requests would no longer be considered in the planning of the downtown commuter rail station.

Tarr promised to find out.

"That question should be put point blank to the MBTA," Tarr said.

Selectmen Mike McCoy said "the point of no return" was unrelated to the stage of completion at which stood the commuter rail station plans. Regardless of whether time remained for the town to work out details of the commuter rail station plans, McCoy said the actual "point of no return" occurred nearly a year earlier, when the Board of Selectmen voted to have the MBTA undergo an informal (non-binding) site plan review, rather than a formal (binding) site plan review.

"If [the selectmen] voted for a formal hearing we wouldn't be meeting with legislators and residents now," McCoy said. "That was the point of no return, now [with an informal site plan review] the state can do what it wants."

Another vote proposed

The legislators and Selectman Jim Rooney continually said a

Agganis defends company reputation

By ERIN DOWNING

WILMINGTON "I had to prove myself to get to the level I'm at and it's taken a lot of hard work. This business is my life," said Chris Agganis, owner of the driving school that 39 parents are alleging overcharged them. "Harm has been done now."

An infuriated Agganis defended his company's reputation after finding out from reading an article in the Sept. 15 edition of the Town Crier that parents alleging Agganis Driving School overcharged them during the 199697 school year were advised by the Wilmington School Board to take Agganis to Small Claims Court.

The Director of Administration and Finance, Bradford Jackson,

Simmons survives brush with death

By PAUL HAYES

WILMINGTON- Pete Simmons arrived in California on April 15, to spend a vacation week visiting his son. Three days later, that week turned into months, after he tried to cross the street.

On April 18, with traffic stopped for a red light at a nearby intersection, Simmons made his way across the street. Two feet from the sidewalk, a car backed into him.

"[The driver] dragged me underneath the car," Simmons said. "I ended up with floating ribs, a broken left arm, my pelvis was broken in two places, and I received third degree burns on my buttocks from the car's muffler."

Simmons was conscious the whole time he was pinned underneath the car, until a tow truck lifted the car off of him.

Then everything went blank.

He lost consciousness for the following nine weeks, and spent over two months in an Intensive Care Unit. Simmons said during his stay in intensive care, his heart stopped, and he was clinically dead, on four separate occasions.

"They gave me a 30 percent chance to live," Simmons said.

Fighting the odds, Simmons eventually made it out of inten-

Fighting the odds, Simmons eventually made it out of intensive care, and after three additional weeks in the hospital he was cleared to return home to recover at the Northeast Rehab in Salem, NH.

Simmons return home should have been triumphant, but a series of misadventures added insult to Simmons' considerable injuries.

The cross country trip began with Simmons being told his flight to Logan Airport in Boston had been cancelled. The airlines proposed to bus Simmons to Boston, but Simmons - fitted with a feeding and trachea tubes, ad in considerable discomfort - was outraged by the offer.

Eventually, Simmons was put on a flight to New York City, and once he arrived there he was told again there were no available flights to Boston. In the end Simmons rented a limousine to take him from New York to Nashua.

Total elapsed time for the trip: approximately 17 hours.

Simmons then spent two and a half months in rehab, and was released recently on Sept. 14. Despite the trials and tribulations, Simmons health continues to improve.

"Right now I'm not too bad, I'm as strong as an ox from the knees up," Simmons said.

However the accident has left him unable to walk or maintain his balance without assistance. He is currently fitted with leg braces, and uses a four-pronged "quad cane," both of which he hopes are temporary measures.

"My plan for the future is to walk again," Simmons said. "And do everything I did before."

Simmons, a former Board of Selectmen candidate and little league umpire, is also the First Lieutenant Commander of the Legion of Honor, a division of the Shriners comprised of former military servicemen.

In a gesture of sympathy, Simmons family and friends presented him with a quilt, with a number of knots tied into it, each representing a prayer said for Simmons.

It's YOUR Money
by Joyce Brisbois

ABOUT TRUSTS

You don't have to be very rich to have a trust fund these days. Or need one. Trusts can save taxes for middle-income people, too.

Let an irrevocable life insurance trust buy a policy on your life. The proceeds stay out of your estate. If you already have a policy, transfer it; after three years, it's out of your estate.

A bypass (or credit shelter) trust helps avoid estate taxes, too. In your will, leave the taxfree allowance—$650,000 now, going up to $1 million in 2006—to the trust. Usually, the trust's income goes to the spouse for life; at the spouse's death, the trust's assets, which may have appreciated in value, go to the other beneficiaries with no tax due.

Give away your home or vacation home to a qualified personal residence trust. After the trust term, the house goes to the trust's beneficiaries, the original owners pay rent for it, and the gift-taxable value of the home has been cut.

Trust us. We've got some good ideas on cutting estate taxes at

Letter to the Editor

Such is the delight locally with "Touching Souls" that we just had to ensure Mico received the thanks ...

Dear Editor:

I felt I just had to write to you all and say how wonderful "Touching Souls" looks situated outside our Abbey Church Visitor Centre. It was such a privilege to meet your eminent sculptor Mico Kaufman. Surely God has touched this man's brow, such genius within a very modest and unassuming man. I will always remember walking Mico across the road from The Bell Hotel (circa 1693) to where his work is placed. My concern was that he might not look the 'right' way before crossing over an English road (having myself very nearly come to grief in New York City doing the same thing).

Mico's delight at the location of "Touching Souls" was obvious "I was so afraid they would put in on a plinth," he told me. The sculpture is, in fact, at ground level on a specially prepared paved area. As we stood there viewing the sculpture a constant flow of visitors stopped to photograph it. Mico was quite overcome by such attention. As you know there was a very moving service in the Abbey and the actual dedication outside the Visitor Centre took place immediately afterward. On this occasion, too, Mico Kaufman was surrounded by our townsfolk who wanted to obtain his autograph on the Order of Service leaflet or just to shake his hand.

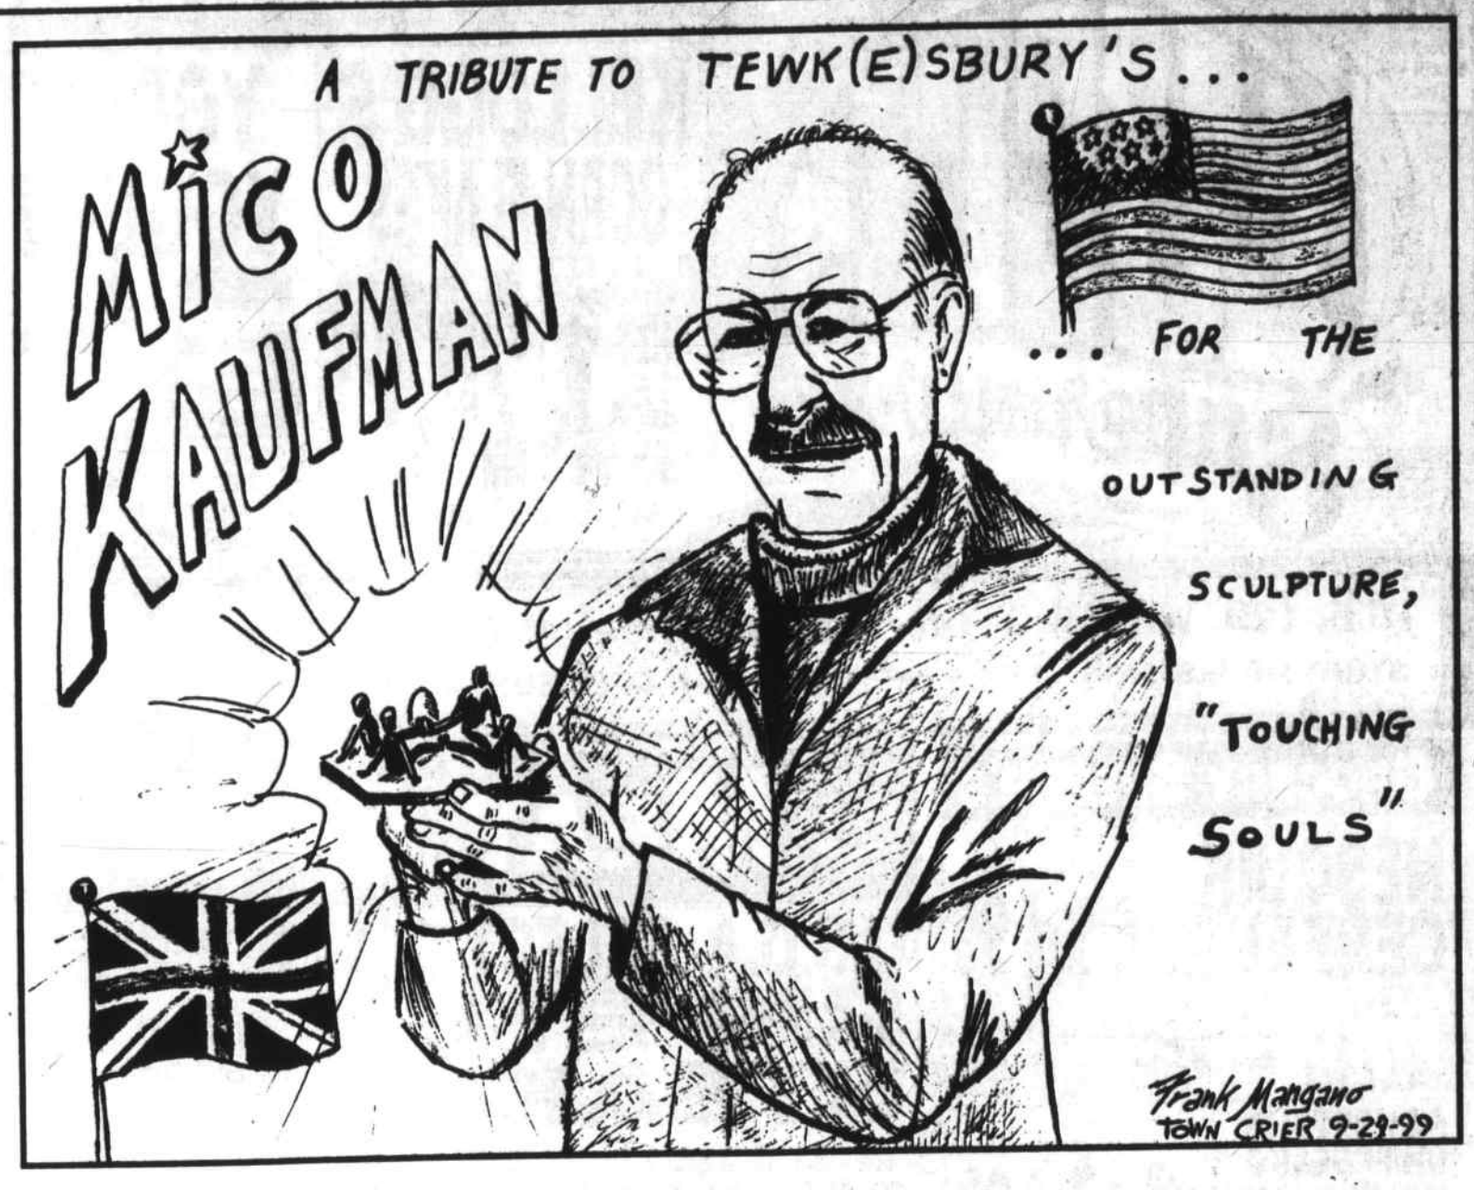

We English, as you know, are very reserved by nature, but such is the delight locally with "Touching Souls" that we just had to ensure Mico received the thanks and congratulations due to him.

May I conclude by saying that each and every one of the party from Tewksbury, Mass. was a super ambassador for your town, state and country. All of these people I now consider to be my close friends.

God Bless you all,
Michael

Michael D. Kean-Price

P.S. How very kind of you to name your newspaper after me!!!

TOWN CRIER NEWS NOTE: Tewksbury artist Mico Kaufman recently presented a replica of his sculpture "Touching Souls" to Tewksbury's sister city of Tewkesbury, England (see Town Crier Sept. 22 edition). To the left of the above editorial cartoon, is a letter of appreciation written by an ACTUAL Town Crier, Michael Kean-Price of Tewkesbury, England.

Speeders have to eat our dust going 30 m.p.h.

Dear Editor:

I would just like to extend a heartfelt thanks to our Tewksbury Police Department for their diligence in issuing citations to the motorists who insist on speeding through our town. In reading the police logs each week in this newspaper, I have noticed that not only are citations being issued on the main streets, but also on some residential streets which have been notorious for such reckless driving. In fact, two citations have been issued on my street in the last few months, and it is a dead end road, but steep and windy.

With the opening of the 495 access road, and increase in development in North Tewksbury, many of our residential streets which have always been cut throughs for commuters, are now seeing a definite increase in traffic and with the repaving of such streets as Livingston Street, motorists seem to drive even faster as they don't have to dodge the potholes.

I would like to appeal to the residents of Tewksbury to please drive within the posted speed limits in town. In most neighborhoods, the speed limit is 25-35 miles per hour. Stop means stop, and yellow flashing lights mean slow down and look both ways before proceeding. Let us all be an example to follow, and if the speeders have to eat our dust going 30 miles per hour, then so be it.

LAST VIEW OF THE INSIDE of Pop's Barn. The 150 year old barn at the corner of Glen Rd. and the town hall driveway was torn down last Monday morning. Owners were unable to find anyone willing to disassemble and remove the structure for rebuilding elsewhere. Powder Post beetles and other creatures had made their home in the old barn for years, ruining the old pine timbers.

Christian (Pop) Neilson purchased the farm on which the barn stood a century ago. He was the last to keep animals in it. In more recent times an electrician and a painter had rented space from the current owners, who will now be expanding the house adjacent to the barn. (Stu Neilson photo)

Letters To The Editor

Let us, the voters put them to the test and see if they really mean what they say!!

Dear Editor:

Just thought I'd pass this forward: On 28 Sept. 99, I sent an e-mail to feedback@mbta.com and asked the following question, "Can you update me on the last on the Wilmington Center project?

The reply I received on Tuesday is as follows: "Wilmington station is presently approaching the 100 percent design level. The final traffic report is expected to be submitted to the town in October and then the Authority will request to be put on the Planning Board agenda. The property acquisitions have taken place and the owners and businesses have been given notice to vacate on or before January 10, 2000. Once the property has been vacated, the construction contract will be put out to bid."

This, to me, sounds like a done deal in the MBTA's eyes and does not leave room for compromise. We have been hearing over and over again, trust the MBTA for they know what they are doing (This is a family publication). The selectmen met in open forum this past Monday and the audience overwhelmingly requested that our legislative delegation who was present send a strong message to the MBTA that their plan does not come close to meeting any of our requirements.

Time and time again the people of the town, either through the annual town meeting, planning board and selectmen meetings have told our elected officials that the town does not support the MBTA and has directed them to formally oppose the project. Mr. Caira, at the latest selectmen's meeting said that the language of the Town Meeting action was clear, concise and to the point and that there should be no reason why the selectmen can question the intent of the warrant article. He further cannot understand how the selectmen can openly defy the overwhelming vote taken.

I think the selectmen need to realize that we, the taxpayers are their bosses and that the workplace has a term for employees who go against the direction of their bosses.

In a response to arguments concerning the wording, legality of the article, or how binding Article 41 was, Mr. Bob Doucette suggested a special town election this fall to give the voters the opportunity to express their opinion on whether or not the town wants the MBTA parking lot. This would allow all of the voters of the town the chance to express simply yes or no on their support of the project. The question was raised to the legislative delegation and the selectmen, "what if the town votes it down?" Will the elected officials officially stop the project? We got no response from anyone.

I would propose that we have a special town election that would be binding on the town and the MBTA that either the project be stopped entirely if the vote warrants, or the MBTA submits to a formal site plan review if the town votes the project forward. This would ensure that if the project is what the town wants, it is designed to meet the planning board objectives. The planning board would also need to agree that trivial issues such as the color of bricks not hinder the development, but work through the major hurdles that they have been awaiting answers for the past year and work out the best deal for the town.

The MBTA has stated time and again that it would withdraw the project if the town objected. Let us, the voters put them to the test and see if they really mean what they say!!

You and I will be left with pollution, traffic and ruined aquifers

Dear Editor:

Lately it seems as though most towns across America are coming to grips with the fact that we are running out of open space. Indeed, according to National Public Radio (NPR) in a poll taken this year, most Americans are overwhelmingly in favor of preserving more open space. I totally concur.

In my opinion we needed to put the brakes on and take a good, hard look at our open space policies back in the early 80's when the real land raping began. I'll reinforce my prior, blunt sentence with this eye-opener statement: Half of all office space and shopping malls ever developed in this country, have been developed since 1980. (Author Bill Bryson: "A Walk in the Woods.," 1998.) Many of these spaces stand still unoccupied.

The assets, investors and bank loans at the disposal of developers and realtors are endless. Huge tracts of land are bought up and either developed outright, or held onto as a tax deduction and developed at a later date. How can any community wishing to preserve the integrity of its own open spaces possibly fight back? Well, one way is to let your elected officials know how you feel, but I wouldn't count on that...

Currently there is pending a bill before the state legislature supporting a one percent state wide tax to raise revenues for cities and towns to acquire open space. All indications are that it is going to go down in flames. Why? In my opinion, it will ruffle the feathers of big real estate and land profiteers. God forbid that anybody stand in the way of "progress." Indeed, who is one of the bill's staunchest opponents? Realtors! (Surprised?) (Source: WRKO News 8/99).

In a January 20, 1997 article in the Middlesex News entitled: "Developments use up MetroWest Land," developer Robert Moss had this to say concerning land preservation: "Communities have a choice between preserving land or letting it go to developers..." and "The smart thing to do, is for towns to set aside three to five percent of its annual budget for buying open space."

I am not anti-progress or anti-development. I live in a house, and in fact held a realtors license for 10 years in Massachusetts. I'm simply saying that we need to take a hard look at what we are doing to our past heritage in terms of an unsustainable current development pace. Small town America cannot bear up under the onslaught of 50 plus acre developments like the one off of West Street, or survive the 40 acre bites devouring Route 125. When the smoke finally clears, the few who made the really big money will be gone, and you and I will be left with pollution, traffic and ruined aquifers.

Everything costs money today, and it seems like everything is taxed. I pay taxes too. For many things which I oppose. That hasn't stopped the state government from snatching my money anyway. If I have to pay taxes, then let some of my hard earned money go toward the preservation of the state and town that I grew up in, Mr. Governor. Stop playing politics to favor the few.

We lose 600 acres a week in Massachusetts to development (Audubon Society) and between 300 and 500 acres of wetlands a year as well (Boston Sunday Globe, 8/13/99). Isn't it time that we covet some of this finite natural resource that has been a source of sustenance to us and our forefathers before us for so long?

Let us hand over a legacy of respect for traditional ways and unspoiled areas to our children and they in turn, to theirs. Let's start now. Let's start in Wilmington.

We will not tolerate pollution to infiltrate our homes

Dear Editor:

We wish to thank the Wilmington Chapter of the League of Women Voters for the informative evening held September 22 "Toxic Waste in Wilmington."

They invited three speakers from state organizations to inform the residents and town officials on how we can reduce or eliminate toxic waste in the workplace and in our environment.

It is time for town officials to do everything that is needed to show the industries that produce, manufacture, emit or transport through our residential streets, on a daily basis, that we will not tolerate "air, water pollution to infiltrate our homes and property any longer."

Wilmington residents: it is time to stand up and be counted. Tell the town officials that Wilmington has one too many hazardous waste sites.

The state officials informed us that there are grants that the town can take advantage of to encourage industry to reduce or eliminate toxic pollution.

With the exception of the town nurse, the board of health and its chairperson, were sorely missed at this important and informative meeting.

Archaeology Week Oct. 2-11

BOSTON - Secretary of the Commonwealth William Francis Galvin, the State Archaeologist and the Massachusetts Historical Commission will host the eighth annual Archaeology Week from October 2-11, 1999. This week long event is a statewide celebration of Massachusetts' prehistory and was created for the general public of all ages. Open digs, tours, lectures, children and family events, and exhibits will be held daily in communities throughout the Commonwealth.

"All citizens are invited to attend over 50 archaeologically related events, which will be held throughout Massachusetts. Everyone is urged to learn more about the prehistory of Massachusetts by participating in Archaeology Week," said Secretary Galvin.

State Archaeologist, Brona Simon adds, "Because of events such as Archaeology Week, public awareness, respect and curiosity of archaeological resources in Massachusetts has greatly increased. The different events offered will certainly pique your interest!"

For a free calendar of events call the MHC at 617-727-8470 or visit MHC on the internet at www.state.ma.us/sec/mhc.

Wilmington Senior Topics

WILMINGTON - I have received several calls in concerns of hospitalizations and discharge plans. For the next two weeks there will be information about "How to plan before your Hospitalization" and "What to do at the time of Discharge."

A joint publication of the Massachusetts Department of Public Health and AARP provided the following:

Preparing for a hospital procedure or stay in an acute care hospital can be a very confusing experience. There are many things you should ask about in advance. In addition to discussing the specific medical procedure with your doctor, it is also important to take charge of your hospital discharge planning before you are in the hospital.

That means talking with your doctor or a hospital discharge planner, sometimes called the continuing care case manager. A discharge planner is a nurse or social worker employed by the hospital to help you and your family decide the most appropriate setting for care following a hospital stay. If you are a member of a managed care plan or HMO, the plan has a case manager who will work with you. After your hospital stay, you may be able to go home, or you may need to go to an after care facility such as a rehabilitation hospital or using home (temporarily). Ask the discharge planner to explain the range of options you have and whether your insurance will pay for the services you choose.

Plan Ahead: Here are some questions you should ask you doctor before you go into the hospital:

*Will I need skilled nursing or therapy services?

*When will I be able to resume normal activities?

*Should I arrange for a ride home, or for transportation during my recovery?

*Will I need someone to stay with me during recovery?

*Will I need help with bathing, dressing, or toileting when I arrive home?

*Will I need help buying groceries or preparing meals?

*Will I need help with housekeeping or yard work?

*Will I need help coping with my operation, illness or recovery?

*Will I need to go to a rehabilitation center or nursing home? May I choose the center?

*Will my insurance pay for my procedure and aftercare needs?

*Are there community programs that provide these services or help pay for these services?

Next week there will be more to follow. Please always remember to call the Senior Center (Terri Marciello 657-7595) if you should have any questions or concerns for yourself or a family member.

Coming home from the hospital

WILMINGTON - Today I would like to continue the series about Hospital Discharge and how to be involved. Last week it was discussed 'what to do before being admitted to the hospital,' now you are in the hospital "Involve Yourself in Your Discharge." If you did not have time to plan before you enter an acute care hospital, you still have the opportunity to participate fully in your discharge plan. Ask to speak with the discharge planner. Any patient of any age can ask the discharge planner to evaluate their need for discharge plan.

If you need continuing care, your doctor, nurse, and discharge planner will work with you and your family to develop a special plan to meet your needs. Share with the discharge planner any concerns you have about your ability to manager your personal care, your medications, housekeeping, caregiving duties, mobility, and recovery needs once you are at home.

If you need continuing care services, the hospital discharge planner must give you a written discharge plan before you leave the hospital. Special rule: In Massachusetts, if you are Medicare beneficiary leaving an acute hospital, then the hospital usually must give you a written plan 24 hours before you leave the hospital. (If not have the right to appeal, which will be discussed further next week).

The discharge plan must contain information on:

1. the continuing care services you need, including medical treatments, medical transportation, and homemaker services.
2. detailed information about the services that have been arranged.
3. names, addresses and phone numbers of the service providers.
4. a schedule outlining when nursing, therapeutic or custodial services will begin.
5. medications you will need and instructions on their use.
6. information about special diets and treatment.
7. the schedule for any of your follow-up medical appointments.

If you are told by hospital staff that you are ready for discharge, but you have not received a written discharge plan, ask for it. You must sign the plan to indicate you received the plan. This signature does no mean you agree that the plan is appropriate for you.

In some cases, you may not agree with the discharge plan. For example, you think the plan does not arrange for all services that you will need at home, or your family caregiver will not be able to help you as you originally thought. If you are dissatisfied, you must immediately notify the discharge planner. Talk with the discharge planner and your doctor about your concerns. If you are still not satisfied, then you may contact the Massachusetts Department of Public Health, Division of Health Care Quality at 1-800-462-5540.

If you should have any questions or concerns for your or your family members when you read this, please feel free to contact Director of Elderly Services, Terri Marciello, at 657-7595.

Senior Center updates:

*Thursday, Oct. 7: "Caregivers Forum" from 4 to 7 p.m. An event to help educate the caregivers and their families of services that can be provided in and out of their homes. Such as: in home providers, social day/adult day health programs, assisted living and nursing homes. Refreshments will be served.

*Monday, Oct. 11: Columbus Day; the Center will be closed.

Diabetes Walk October 10th starts at Hatch Shell

WELLESLEY - Over 3,000 walkers representing local corporations, organizations, schools and families are expected to participate in the JDF Bay State Chapter's Boston Walk to Cure Diabetes, scheduled to be held Sunday, October 10 at the MDC Hatch Shell in Boston from noon to 4 p.m.

The goal for the Boston Walk to Cure Diabetes is to raise over $650,000 to donate to diabetes research to help fund a cure for diabetes and its complications. Nationwide, JDF Walks to Cure Diabetes are expected to raise over $55 million this year for diabetes research.

"We are so pleased to partner with JDF on such an important goal - curing a disease which kills one American every three minutes and costs our nation $98 billion a year," said Michael J. Collins, vice president-general manager, Abbot Labs/MediSense Products, the 1999 Corporate Walk Chair. "Diabetes takes a devastating toll on entire families and that's why we're committed to helping raise money for a cure. By working together, we can make a difference."

The 5K Walk is an event for the entire family. There will be entertainment, food and lots of fun for a good cause. On-site registration begins at noon. The Walk can also be supported by purchasing paper sneakers for $1 each at all Marshalls, Bradlees and Walgreen locations.

The Juvenile Diabetes Foundation's mission is to find a cure for diabetes and its complications through the support of research. JDF is the world's leading nonprofit, non- governmental funder of diabetes research. It was founded in 1970 by parents of children with diabetes who are committed to making a cure a reality in their children's lifetimes. Since its inception, JDF has given more than $290 million to diabetes research worldwide.

National JDF Walk sponsors are Paine Webber, Marshalls, Walgreens, Toys R Us. For more information on JDF or the 1999 Boston Walk to Cure Diabetes, visit the JDF website: www.jdfcure.org or call 781-431-0700.

Diabetes support group meets on 2nd Thursday of the month

WINCHESTER - Winchester Hospital offers a professional and peer support group for people coping with the challenges of living with diabetes. In an informal atmosphere, people share similar concerns and exchange experiences, knowledge and information.

The Diabetes Support Group is now held on the second Thursday evening of each month in the community education room at Baldwin Park II, 7 Alfred Street in Woburn from 7 to 8:30.

Please call 781-386-2661 for more information.

Special Town Meeting

Warrant article deadline Oct. 4

WILMINGTON-The deadline for filing articles for the Special Town Meeting is Monday, Oct. 4 at 4:30 p.m.

Special Town Meeting will occur on Monday, Nov. 15, and will primarily be convened to appropriate money for the Main Street sewer project from other town projects.

The state budget impasse is expected to be resolved by the Special Town Meeting, and the town could use the meeting to transfer and appropriate these funds as well.

However, the state budget items can wait until the Annual Town Meeting in April, Town Manager Mike Caira said.

Reading Light to celebrate

Public Power Week

READING - The Reading Municipal Light Department (RMLD) is one of 2,000 public power utilities in the United States celebrating Public Power Week from October 3 through October 9. To help celebrate the benefits of public power, the RMLD will visit several locations in the four community service territory with information about electrical safety, energy conservation, and services offered by the RMLD.

RMLD Public Relations Assistant Priscilla Gottwald will be at the following locations during Public Power Week: (North Reading Star Market, Tuesday, October 5 from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m.; and Stop &^ Shop, Wednesday, October 6, 2 to 4 p.m., (Reading) Atlantic Supermarket, Tuesday, October 5 from 1 to 3 p.m. and (Wilmington) MarketBasket, Thursday, October 7, 9:30 to 11:30 a.m.

In addition to the above locations, giveaways and information will be available at Karen's Bakery in Lynnfield during Public Power Week, beginning Monday, October 4 at 3 p.m.

"Public Power Week provides us an opportunity to let people know about the benefits of public power," RMLD Public Relations Manager Ann Marie Brennick said. "At the same time, we can meet informally with the customers, answer their questions, and provide them with information about electrical safety and energy conservation."

"We invite RMLD customers to stop by the RMLD display at one of the scheduled times, or at Karen's Bakery in Lynnfield during Public Power Week."

For information about Public Power Week activities, or any of the programs offered by the RMLD, call Public Relations Assistant, Priscilla Gottwald, 781-944-1340 x 419.

Doris B. Ivas

provided home and guidance to foster children

WINDHAM, N.H. Doris Bernadette (Brothers) Ivas, 76, died Monday, September 27, 1999 at home in Windham. She was the widow of George J. Ivas, Sr., who died December 29, 1999.

Born in East Boston August 21, 1923, she was the daughter of the late Frederick and Dorothy (Dowd) Brothers.

Mrs. Ivas was a resident of Tewksbury for many years and was educated in Tewksbury schools. In 1945 she moved to North Reading were she was a communicant of St. Theresa's Church. Due to illness, has lived in Windham, N.H. for the past two years.

Prior to retirement in 1988, she was employed in retail sales by Marshall's Department Store of Reading. She previously worked for the W.T. Grant Co. in Reading and later in Andover. In her early years, Mrs. Ivas provided a home and guidance to numerous underprivileged foster children. She enjoyed many activities especially traveling, boating and crafts.

She is survived by her son and daughter-in-law, George J. Ivas, Jr. and Ruth V. (Connors) Ivas, with whom she lived in Windham; her daughter and son-in-law, Sharon L. and Alan L. Hayward of Derry, N.H.; two brothers, Frederick W. Brothers and his wife Lorraine (Eagan) and George F. Brothers all of Tewksbury; her sister, Mildred T. Brothers of Lowell; six grandchildren, Dawn K. Hayward and Alan L. Hayward, Jr., George J. Ivas III, Jeffrey M. Michael J. and Andrew J. Ivas and her great-granddaughter, Elizabeth L. Hayward.

Many nieces and nephews also survive.

She was also the sister of the late Irene P. Edell, Warren J. Brothers and Dorothy L. Sheehan.

Friends may call at the Farmer & Dee Funeral Home, 16 Lee St., Tewksbury, Thursday from 5 to 9 p.m. Prayers will be offered Friday at 11 a.m. at the funeral home followed by burial in Tewksbury Cemetery.

Born in Lynn January 10, 1915, she was the daughter of the late Narcisse LaBossiere and the late Rose Ann LaBossiere.

Mrs. Soucy enjoyed her position as homemaker; was a member of the Third Order of St. Francis and a devout Christian.

She is survived by her sons Thomas J. Soucy of Lynn and Norman F. Soucy of Salem; her daughters Bernice A. Weeks and Gwendolyn J. Scott, both of Wilmington and Elaine Squiliace of Schenectady, N.Y.; her brothers Eugene LaBossiere of Sandown, N.H. and Alfred LaBossiere of Lynn; 18 grandchildren and 12 great-grandchildren.

She was also the mother of the late G. Soucy and sister of the late George LaBossiere, Louis LaBossiere and Rita Conway.

Funeral services were held Friday morning, Sept. 24, from the Sacred Heart Church, followed by burial in Puritan Lawn Memorial Park, Peabody.

Arrangements were under the direction of the St. Lauren Funeral Home of Lynn.

Save time and money

Get your flu shot

BOSTON - Annual flu shots may not have kids jumping for joy, but according to researchers, millions of dollars could be saved if the conclusions of a recent study are enacted.

The spread of influenza financially impacts communities by causing school and workplace absenteeism, say researchers at the Virginia Commonwealth University School of Medicine in Richmond, Virginia, where the study was conducted,

School-based influenza vaccinations could save between $4 and $35 per child by preventing parents from having to take time off to care for a flu stricken child or to take care of themselves, because they also have caught their child's bug.

You can find details of this study on Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Massachusetts' new state-of-the-art on-line health resource, www.ahealthyme.com. This website offers consumers a key to the answers for many health related questions.

Researchers came up with the figures for savings, after looking at two hypothetical scenarios. One scenario involved individual initiated vaccinations at doctors' offices and the other involved shots in a group based setting. The former scenario required the child to be accompanied to a clinic by a parent during usual work hours, and therefore generated less savings due to the parent missing work.

According to researchers, influenza in the United States have been affecting between 10 and 20 percent of the general population annually. The National Health Interview Survey found that 46 our of 100 children become infected by the flu each year. According to the study's conclusion, those figures make a strong argument for setting up school sponsored flu shot programs. The study stated "policy makers should give serious attention to a vaccination strategy that targets school aged children and takes advantage of emerging epidemiological, technological, demographic and societal factors."

What to do

Flu season arrives in the fall, by which time the vaccine for the expected 1999-2000 virus(es) should be available. Most BCBSMA plans cover the flu vaccination. If covered by your plan, you should be able to receive the vaccination at your physician's office, or at your neighborhood clinic and health center, before the flu season is underway. You might spare yourself some trouble by getting a shot not only for your children but also for yourself. As the Virginia study concluded, the vaccine was 90 percent effective in health care professionals, and they are constantly exposed to the virus!

Don't forget to check out the new BCBSMA website because not only is ahealthyme available 24 hours a day, seven days a week, www.ahealthyme.com uniquely features Ask Dr. Anne, a real BCBSMA physician who answers unusual questions from site users.

Board of Selectman / MBTA

Town Meeting vote, to withhold support for the commuter rail station if it does not meet Planning Board site plan review, was ambiguous.

In order to clarify the town's stance on the commuter rail station, resident Bob Doucette suggested the town put an "yes or no" referendum vote on the ballot for the upcoming fall elections.

The suggested question was, roughly: "Do you support the construction of a expanded commuter rail station and 227 space parking lot in the town center between the Main Street railway crossing and Big Joe's restaurant?"

Selectmen Chair Bob Cain promised the ballot question would be discussed at the Oct. 12 Board of Selectmen meeting.

A similar suggestion to hold a vote at Special Town Meeting on Nov. 15 was roundly disapproved, because legislators and rail station proponents have pointed out the low voter turnout as a reason not to take the Town Meeting vote seriously.

Although the legislators and Rooney vowed to work for increased cooperation between the MBTA and the Planning Board, they reiterated their support for the rail station project.

"I feel it will do an awful lot for the center of town, which currently looks like an old cow town," Miceli said.

Rooney said the MBTA should still be required to work with the Planning Board, but said one of the reasons he ran for the Board of Selectmen was to clean up the town center, which he termed "six gun city."

Audience members questioned if the elected representatives were bound to follow a town meeting vote, or their own wills. The article to withhold support if the rail station does not meet site plan approval was passed by an 86 percent vote.

Resident Frank West said legislators and selectmen were obligated to obey the Town Meeting vote, despite their opinions on the town center.

"When you're in the audience, you have a right to your opinion," West said.

However, Tarr said the town meeting vote was not legally binding, and did not legally initiate legislators to action. Tarr said the role of Selectmen and legislators was not to oppose the project, but to get the town as much as they could out of it.

"Our job is to [decrease] disagreement [between the town and MBTA] to the narrowest margin possible," Tarr said. "Then responsible people have to ask if the benefits of the project outweigh the things [the town] couldn't get."

said the recommended action, which was approved by the school board on Sept. 9, was suggested after his attempts to resolve the matter with Agganis were unsuccessful.

Agganis, however, adamantly disputed the parents' allegations and questioned Jackson's comments in the Sept. 15 article.

According to a letter dated August 23, 1996, Montvale Driving School, which was owned by Agganis' father, George P. Agganis, was awarded the driver education bid for the 199697 school year. Montvale has since gone out of business.

Jackson said the driving education services changed during the 199697 school year to Agganis, causing some checks to be made out to Agganis and Montvale.

"Somewhere during the year, Agganis delivered the services but we were never notified that Montvale wasn't anymore," Jackson said. "The actual bid never changed but who was providing the services did."

Agganis, however, said his company never provided services that Montvale was responsible for providing.

In a January 11, 1999 letter, Agganis responded to a Dec. 17 letter from Jackson that asked Agganis to refund a family who claimed they were overcharged during the 199697 school year.

According to the letter, the family paid $165 to Montvale Driving School and $80 to Agganis Driving School. Agganis stated that the payment to Agganis Driving School stems from an outside service that is not related to Montvale's driver education services.

"Upon looking into the Agganis Driving School's files Mr. and Mrs. (name withheld) paid Agganis Driving School, Inc. $80.00 for a Saturday Road Test which is the correct and standard charge for that service. Agganis Driving School, Inc. is not affiliated with the Montvale Driving School, Inc. therefore, I am unable to determine what the $165 check represents; you may want to contact Montvale Driving School, Inc. directly for the information," reads the letter.

Three months later, Agganis received a letter from Jackson that stated Agganis had failed to rectify the problem regarding the overcharging of Mr. and Mrs. (name withheld) even though Agganis explained that the payment was from an outside service that wasn't related to Montvale's contract with the high school.

The letter went on to inform Agganis that the school committee had directed him to begin a more widespread investigation into the complaints of parents being overcharged by Agganis Driving School, and a list of 39 alleged cases of overcharging by Agganis was collected.

The March 15, 1999 letter sent to parents from Jackson in the beginning of the investigation reads, "The Wilmington Public Schools has received several inquiries from parents of children who took Driver's Education in the 199697 school year from Agganis Driving School and Montvale Driving School. These inquiries centered around possible overcharging for services by both companies."

But, after reviewing the list of names collected by Jackson, Agganis said only 18 of the students listed actually attended the drivers education program in 199697.

"The driving school who conducted and was contracted with Wilmington Public School at that time was Montvale Driving School," said Agganis. "The 19 other names Mr. Jackson listed attended the driver education program between 1995 and 1998 or in fact did not even attend the driver education program in Wilmington High School."

Agganis noted that he was not able to locate the records of two listed students.

When asked if Jackson investigated whether all the listed names were from the 199697 school year, he said, "The list that was provided was in response to parents who had juniors and sophomores that year."

Agganis' attorney, Terry Cafazzo, said the last time she was in contact with Jackson was on April 12, when she requested he send her a copy of the bid for the 199697 school year.

"The next day he (Jackson) faxed me the bid specification and not the bid," Cafazzo said. "So, I went to Chris and told him I only received the bid specs, and asked him if he had the bid for that year and he said no. So there was no overcharging by Agganis."

In a phone conversation with Jackson on Friday, Sept. 24, he said he was unaware that Cafazzo was not given the information she requested.

"I responded to her questions and that's the last I heard from her. The fact that I didn't provide her with wanted information is new to me."

At the board's Sept. 9 meeting, they voted to remove Agganis Driving School and any driving school owned or operated by Chris Agganis from the bid list for future driver's education bids because Jackson had not receive a response to his April 5 letter asking Agganis to review his records and reimburse the allegedly overcharged parents.

"The only people who will loose out here is the kids because I truly care about the quality of their education," Agganis said in response to the board's action.

With the matter still unresolved, Agganis worries that the allegations will damage the reputation he has worked hard to establish. "I'm the Northeast Regional Chairman of Drivers Education for the Registry of Motor Vehicles and I'm on the Board of Directors for the Professional Driver Education Association of Massachusetts," said Agganis. "Agganis Driving School was rated one of the top three driving school in Massachusetts by the State Police and Registry of Motor Vehicles. I'm trying to bring drivers education up to another standard. Everyone knows I'm the top one except now in Wilmington."

The Wilmington Public Schools are presently using Excellent Auto School and Jackson said he has informed the parents to monitor their payments.

Comedy night to benefit Renaissance Program at Tewksbury High

TEWKSBURY - "An Evening of Comedy and Delight." will be presented by the TMHS Renaissance Team. Three professional comedians who have appeared at places like the Comedy Connection, Dick Doherty's Comedy Stop and even on the Tonight Show will entertain the audience on Friday, October 22. The fundraiser will be held at the Tewksbury VFW Hall for all interested adults. Doors will open at 7 p.m. and the show will begin at 8:00. Light snacks will be served on each table.

Tickets at $15 each or two for $25, are available in the Guidance Office during the school day or by calling Judy Colman in the Guidance Office at 640-7838. Call Ms. Colman to reserve a table by October 13.

If you cannot purchase your tickets in person, please send a note to the high school before October 15, indicate the number of tickets you would like, and enclose a check made payable to TMHS Renaissance Program. Your tickets will be held at the door the evening of the show. The address is:

Tewksbury Memorial High School
139 Pleasent St.
Tewksbury, MA 01876

With the support of the school committee and local businesses, the Renaissance Program has been able to recognize many students' academic achievements by offering them special award ceremonies, additional privileges within the school and discounts at many area businesses. By making this fundraiser a success, they will be able to maintain or expand this program.

If you can't join them on October 22, but would like to make a contribution to the Renaissance Program, please send a check made payable to TMHS Renaissance Program in care of Mrs. Dolores Sullivan, Assistant Principal, TMHS, Pleasant St., Tewksbury, MA 01876.

PSAT/NMSQT Testing Program Tuesday, October 12 at TMHS

TEWKSBURY - All sophomores and juniors attending Tewksbury Memorial High School (TMHS) will be participating in the PSAT/NMSQT Testing Program Tuesday, October 12.

The PSAT/NMSQT results are helpful to students in making decisions about course selection, in identifying student specific curriculum needs, and in college/career planning. In addition, the PSAT/NMSQT provides an opportunity for students to practice taking the Scholastic Assessment Test (SAT I).

Participation in this testing program has made possible at no cost to TMHS students by the School Committee of the Tewksbury Public Schools.

For more information, please call TMHS at 978-640-7825, the TMHS Guidance Office at 978-640-7838, or Tewksbury Public Schools' Student Services Office at 978-640-7837.

Wilmington Cultural Council to receive $6643 in grant money

WILMINGTON - State Senator Bruce Tarr (R-Gloucester) and the Wilmington Cultural Council have announced the allocation of state funds for local re-granting by the Massachusetts Cultural Council, Wilmington will receive $6,643, in funds to support community cultural programs and PASS, a ticket subsidy program for school age children.

"The arts are an important way to enrich our lives and improve the quality of life in Wilmington," said Senator Tarr. "It's great that the cultural council has taken the lead in seeking these funds and that that initiative is being rewarded by the state with this grant."

"The Cultural Council is a state agency that supports public programs in the arts, sciences and humanities. This year, it will distribute $3.9 million to 335 cultural councils statewide, as part of the program's commitment to enabling cities and towns to make their own decisions about their communities cultural needs. Applications will be accepted through October 15, for eligible projects taking place in 2000.

This year will be the first grant cycle under a new streamlining program that will greatly reduce the time it takes for funds to reach local applicants. Rigorous standards will be enforced through this program, meant to provide for more reliable local administration and training.

Completed forms must be delivered or submitted by October 15. Applications and detailed local guidelines are available through your local cultural council. Please call them at 658-8139, for more information. Historically, the council has given awards ranging from $250 to $1,500, with larger grants made on occasion.

National Merit Scholarship Corporation

Angelo, Chiasson and Cintolo to be commended

TEWKSBURY - Principal Anthony J. Romano of Tewksbury Memorial High School has announced that Kimberly M. Angelo, Christine M. Chiasson and Mark J. Cintolo have been named Commended Students in the year 2000 National Merit Scholarship Program. A Letter of Commendation from the school and National Merit Scholarship Corporation (NMSC), which conducts the program will be presented to these scholastically talented seniors, by Principal Romano.

Some 34, 000 Commended Students throughout the nation are being recognized for their exceptional academic promise. Although they will not continue in the competition for Merit Scholarship awards to be offered next spring. Commended Students placed among the top five percent of more than one million students who entered the year 2000 Merit Program by taking the 1998 Preliminary SAT/National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test.

A Merit Program spokesperson commented, "The young men and women named Commended Students have demonstrated outstanding academic potential by their high performance in the extremely competitive National Merit Program. These scholastically talented youth represent a valuable resource to our nation, and it is important to publicly recognize their attainments and to credit schools for the important part they play in their development. We hope this recognition will help to broaden the educational opportunities of Commended Students and serve as encouragement to them and other able students to develop their abilities to the fullest."

SENATOR SUE TUCKER: visited students at the Wynn Middle School on Friday the 17th, to explain to them some of the responsibilities she has being Senator. During this discussion, students were asked to express their ideas on how to improve conditions at the Wynn. The two most common concerns were the need for better lockers, and better lunches. (L-R) Senator Sue Tucker, Kristen Neary, and Kristine Ellwell reviewed one of these "wish lists". (Maureen Lamoureux photo)

Senator Tucker urges women to attend
Every Woman's Money Conference

BOSTON - In order to help women strengthen their economic position and prepare for their financial future, Senator Sue Tucker (D-Andover) is urging local women to attend the Every Woman's Money Conference this Saturday, October 2 at the Sheraton Hotel in Boston. The day long financial education conference is designed for women of all ages and income levels. The conference, including lunch and all materials, is free.

"Women face serious financial challenges that place them at a higher risk for living in poverty, especially later in life," Tucker said. "The average woman earns $250,000 less over her lifetime than the average man, and 75 percent of women earn less than $25,000 annually. That adds up to smaller retirement accounts and pensions worth half as much as that of the average man."

The conference, which will begin at 8 a.m. and conclude at 4:30 p.m. will include:

*keynote addresses by Linda Ellerbee, a nationally recognized tv journalist, and Jean Chatzky, editor of Money Magazine and contributor to NBC's The Today Show;

*interactive teaching with area financial experts; and *practical advice on money management, investment strategies and retirement planning.

Tucker said there are a number of factors that put women at a higher risk of poverty, especially later in life and following major transitions such as divorce, or the death of a husband or partner, including wage and pension inequities; more sporadic work histories as a result of having cared for children or an elderly parent; a longer life span that requires women to make their money last longer, even though they earn less; and certain financial responsibilities, like the investment of money, are more likely to be done by men.

Tucker cited several statistics to show the sense of urgency for women to develop the money management and investment skills they will need to provide for themselves during all stages of their lives.

*Three out of four working women earn less than $25,000 and nine of 10 earn less than $40,000;

*women retirees receive only half the average pension benefits that men receive, and half of all women work in traditionally female, relatively low paying jobs without pensions;

*in 1996, 71 percent of the nation's four million elderly poor were women, and the poverty rate for elderly women is almost twice as high as the rate for elderly men; and *in a recent survey, 41 percent of all women ages 25 to 55 are worried that they will live at or near the poverty level in retirement, and only 18 percent of all women said they know a great deal about how to plan for retirement.

"This is not strictly a women's issue. This is a family issue." Tucker added. "This is something women need to take control of in their own families."

Tucker is co-sponsoring the conference with State Treasurer Shannon O'Brien. Women interested in attending should call 1-888-867-9377 or call Senator Tucker's office at (617) 722-1612.

Hazardous waste (information) at the library

WILMINGTON - In order to remain responsive to the interests and needs of the community, the library has undertaken a new planning process developed by the Public Library

Association called "Planning for Results." The Long Range Planning Committee consisting of community representatives, library staff, a library trustee, and the library director met September 15. At this meeting, the committee selected preliminary "services responses" - distinct ways the library serves the public. The library will use these service responses as a guide for developing and improving specific services that meet the current and future needs of the community.

Residents may provide input regarding these service responses by filling out a brief survey available at the library and the Town Hall. The survey is also available on the library web site. You can go to www.wilm.library.org, to complete the survey and submit it electronically.

Getnetwise

GetNetWise (www.getnetwise.org) is a web site recommended for parents looking for a resource to help educate themselves and their children about how to use the Internet safely. It includes a glossary of Internet terms, a guide to online safety, directions for reporting online trouble, a directory of online safety tools and great sites for kids to visit.

Hazardous waste information

The League of Women Voters who presented a forum on hazardous waste sites in Wilmington last Thursday have given the library detailed documentation about this subject. The information includes a chronology of newspaper articles and reports and correspondence from the Massachusetts Department of Environmental Protection. The material is on file in the Reference Department.

Lori Hodgson, reference librarian, has also prepared a handout listing books and web sites dealing with hazardous wastes. Books in the reference collection include the NIOSH pocket guide to chemical hazards and Citizens guide to the Massachusetts Contingency Plan.

Bookends

Bookends, the library's book discussion group, will meet Thursday, October 7 at 7 p.m. The book that will be discussed at this meeting is The Stone Diaries by Carol Shields.

Bookends has been meeting monthly since 1994. New members are always welcome to attend and enjoy a lively discussion of books. No registration is required.

Free pension seminar at Medford Bank

MEDFORD - Medford Bank will hold a free pension seminar, "Manage Your Retirement Dollars and Maximize Your Retirement Earnings," Tuesday, October 26. Two sessions of this seminar are offered 2 to 4 or 6 to 8 p.m. in the bank's Crowley Boardroom, 5 High Street, Medford, Mass.

Medford Bank's assistant vice president and pensions officer, Terry Barile, will conduct the seminar focusing on the various types of IRAs, as well as formulating the best strategies for managing IRA distributions. In addition to distribution options, Barile will cover tax implications, beneficiary, concerns and other financial issues.

For the person looking at retirement now or in the near future, this seminar presents a good opportunity to learn about available retirement options. Planning ahead is very important to maximize retirement earnings. If you are already retired, this seminar provides a good opportunity for you to reevaluate your current IRA distributions and review your beneficiary status.

Space is limited, so make a reservation soon by calling 1-888-MEDFORD (1-888-633-3673).

Medford Bank, with over $1 billion in assets, has a solid history of financial strength and commitment to the communities it serves. The bank provides a variety of financial services to commercial and retail customers from its 17 branch network with branches in both Tewksbury and Wilmington.

Field Hockey struggling on both sides of the field

By David Flynn
Sports Correspondent

Someone once said that "defense wins games." If this were true, then the Wilmington field hockey team would have gone 2-0 this past week. Instead, the Wildcats dropped two games against Masconomet and Rockport as their record dropped to 2-4-1.

The Wildcats opened up the week Saturday against Masconomet and lost 2-1. The game was played in the pouring rain, but the intensity and aggressiveness of both teams was still there.

The Wildcats fell behind 1-0 early but, sophomore Stephanie Quinton tied the game on a pass by senior co-captain Kara Langone. The Wildcats tried hard to put themselves on top. However, it was not meant to be.

In the second half, Masconomet scored the game winner on a corner hit. A Masconomet player hit the ball toward the goal and sophomore goalie Kasey Walsh made the initial save. However, Masconomet crowded in front of the net and slapped at the ball until finally the ball skipped up in the air and into the net.

"It was just a lucky bounce," said head coach Patti Cushing.

The Wildcats hoped to turn their fortunes around as they took on Rockport. However, once again, the offense could not feed off the strong defensive play of the Wildcats' defenders as they fell 1-0.

"We're having a hard time putting the ball in the net," said Cushing. "We had our opportunities, but we just couldn't capitalize."

Although the Wildcats struggled, Cushing saw some encouraging signs as her defense played solidly all week. Led by senior co-captain Maura Lynch, senior Colleen Campbell, and senior Courtney Gilligan, the Wildcats have been a stingy defensive squad that has kept their team in every game.

"We are in every game," said Cushing. "We just have to break the ice."

Said co-captain Maura Lynch, "Our defense has played big for us, but we have been falling behind and after that we can't get back in the game."

Goaltender Walsh has done her part in keeping opposing teams from scoring. Walsh is taking over for three year starter Patricia Mendoza who was lost to graduation and the UMass-Lowell program. With six saves against Rockport, Walsh is quickly becoming one of the most reliable players on the field.

"Walsh has the instincts and is doing really well," said Cushing. "She has worked really hard."

Walsh's teammates are also impressed with her emergence.

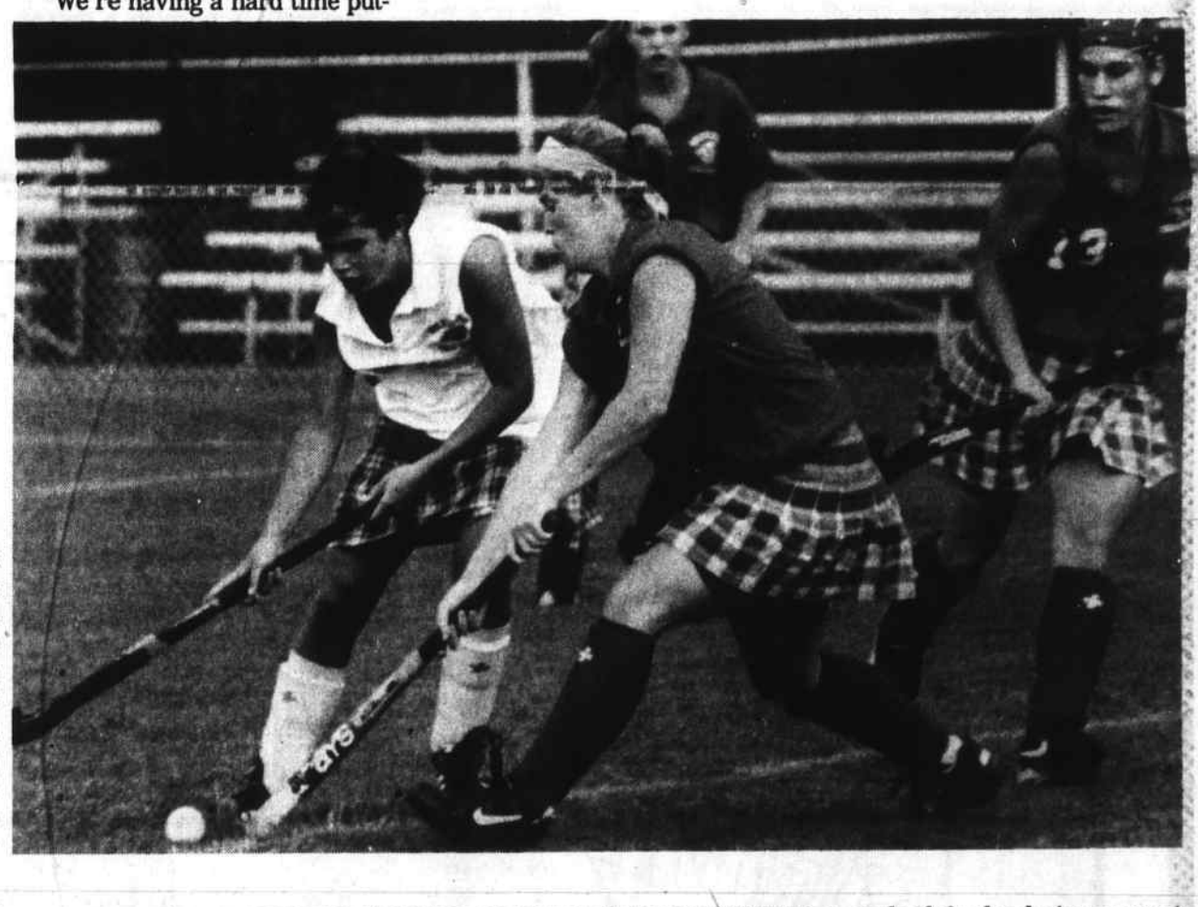

Said Lynch, "She doesn't let many goals in. She is just excellent."

The Wildcats have two big games this week. They play Wednesday against Masconomet at 3:30 p.m. and Friday at North Andover at 7.

A few things left off from last week

With the debut of the football section last week, things have been a little confusing around here. Thus, last week's edition was missing a few usually stories including boys and girls cross country, "Where's the Action", "Stars of the Week", and several youth sports stories that were submitted. Due to space, time and the confusion aspect, all of those were left off last week's pages, but all re-appear this week (except the stars of the week as the star of the month caricature is back).

We apologize for the inconveniences and the inconsistencies. [Sp. Ed].

Perplexing situation for boys soccer

By JAMIE POTE
Sports Editor

With an almost entire new lineup to this year's roster after two of its best seasons in its program's history, the Wilmington High soccer team is currently 0-3-2, with two goals in 5 games. So yes it's unfair to say the have gone from one extreme to the other with two consecutive Division 3 North Championship banners, however, they are struggling, no matter what their previous records or accomplishments are.

"It's got me perplexed," said headman Dick Scanlon. "They play hard, but we're just not doing the job. When you have scored two goals in five games, I think that speaks for itself."

This past week Wilmington managed to tie Lynnfield last Wednesday, before losing to North Reading for the second time of the season on Friday, and then starting this week with a 1-1 tie in a road game against Rockport. Scanlon said his team was better than that of Rockport, and the 'Cats totally dominated in the second half. But the bottom line is they haven't scored.

"The only goal we got was from Chris Calway who did exactly what I told the team to do at halftime," said Scanlon. "I told them to go hard to the ball and good things will happen. Chris went hard and the ball deflected off one of their defenders and went in."

The last two years Wilmington's teams got by with enough talent and skill, but were successful because they played very hard, hustled non stop and played very tough physically, especially on defense. Right now the team is playing hard, but apparently not hard enough.

"They played quite well in the pre-season. And we played some tough, tough teams and I did that deliberately. We faced Stoneham twice, Reading, Billerica twice and lost 2-0 to Central Catholic who has a very strong team. I just don't know what's going on."

Without a win in its first five games, Wilmington will go back to the chalkboard to talk Soccer 101, with hopes of stealing a win against the two better Cape Ann League teams in Masconomet Regional (home on Thursday) and North Andover (away next Monday). True Wilmington has faced the brunt of the CAL schedule early on, but in all fairness just maybe this young and inexperienced team just hasn't gelled yet while playing the toughest competition this will play for the regular season.

"Hopefully we'll snap out of it pretty quickly," said Scanlon. "Because I'm pretty perplexed over it."

Last Friday the team hosted North Reading, the same team who defeated them in the season opener. Wilmington didn't play that well, as a matter of fact thanks to several of their bodies being in the way the game could have easily have been 10-1, instead it was 2-1 game. North Reading opened the scoring when Brendan Malone finished off a very impressive looking passing display on a 3-on-1 and the dribbler went past Wilmington keeper Dan Alosco who made 11 saves in the game and played pretty good.

With the score still 1-0, Wilmington came out of the halftime huddle and put some offensive pressure on the Hornets. Both A.J. Mitzan and Darren Arciero had quality shots that were saved by Chris Venezia, and quickly after Arciero's bid, North Reading made it 2-0 on a weird redirect kick that bounced into the far corner.

Wilmington would get a solid defensive play out of Jarred Constantino, as well as a nice maneuver by freshman Jason Gustin who initiated an offensive chance, and then with 4:30 to go in the game Wilmington struck. Dan Keating headed in the ball inside the left corner, from another header on a scurry in front and the lead was quickly cut in half. But that was all Wilmington could muster, leaving the field with a 2-1 loss.

Seadogs to hold tryouts, October 16-17

The Seadogs AAU Travel Team Baseball Program has announced its tryouts schedule for the 2000 season. The first series of clinic/tryouts will be conducted October 16-17 at three different sites for seven of eight age groups.

The Seadogs' program is part of the South Shore Baseball Club, which has been a member of the Mass. Assoc. of the Amateur Athletic Union since 1994. The AAU is a national organization established in 1983 to provide an additional level of national competition for players, coaches and their families. The Seadogs compete against other Mass. AAU teams for the right to qualify for the AAU National Baseball Championships held all cross the country.

The Seadogs will field eight teams in 2000: 10 and under through and including 17 and under. Players are selected from a series of clinic/tryouts held throughout the year. The first clinic/tryouts will be held Saturday and Sunday, Oct. 16 and 17 for seven divisions (July 31, 2000 is cut-off date to determine proper age group):

Oct. 16 at Strong Field, East Bridgewater, 9 a.m. to noon, 13 and under; 14 and under, 1 to 4 p.m.; 15 and under, 16 and under.

Oct. 17 at South Randolph Little League Field, So. Randolph, 9:30 a.m. to noon, 10 and under, 11 and under.

Oct. 17 at Gifford Park, So. Weymouth, 9:30 a.m. to noon, 12 and under.

Other clinic/tryouts will be held outdoors in October, and indoors in January and February at SSBC in Holbrook. Tryouts for the 17 and under team will be announced at a later date.

The Seadogs' program is intended to supplement rather than replace local Little League, Babe Ruth or American Legion baseball programs.

This past summer the Seadogs' 16 and under team captured a bronze medal in the Junior Olympics/AAU National Championships at Jacobs Field in Cleveland, Ohio. Three players earned All-America honors: Weymouth pitcher/shortstop Ryan Morgan, Raynham shortstop Craig Audette and Scituate centerfielder Mike Conroy.

"We'll be entering our seventh year of AAU competition," Seadogs director Steve Almonte said. "Our program improves every year as we continue to build on the success we have each season. Our staff has veteran coaches who've experienced national caliber competition in many tournaments over the years.

"The Seadogs offers kids a great opportunity to play the best baseball in Mass., as well as the possibility to play in a national tournament. The real beauty of AAU baseball is every participant has that opportunity."

The South Shore Baseball Club is a year round, full service club and training facility in Holbrook and Hingham for baseball and softball players, boys and girls, ages five and older. Cardinals enjoy a fun baseball season

The 1999 Tewksbury Minor Farm Cardinals recently completed an outstanding season under the guidance of coaches Dan Kiernan, Harold Medeiros and Steve Palrine. The Cardinals were a devastating offensive team led by second year sluggers Joel Altavesta, Sean Tessicini, Matt Bailey and Richie DeCoste.

Chipping in with awesome hitting and super run production were first year players Dan Medeiros, Sean Kiernan, Tyler Bulger and Brendan Kieran. Defensively, the Cardinals made all the stops with an unbelievable tandem of Michael Hood and Kerin Foley at short and second and Robbie Pappagianopoulos, who was like a vacuum cleaner at first base.

When they weren't on the field, the Cardinals trotted out defensive standouts Andrew DeMaio, Matt Pelrine and TJ Kane to plug up the middle and make it very difficult for opposing teams to get hits. Roaming the outfield with speed and awesome defense were Max Linskey, Sean Cronin, Tommy Goggins and David Conley. They made it very difficult for runners to take extra bases on the Cardinals this year.

All in all, the team had an outstanding year of both fun and skill development. The coaching staff wishes the best of luck to all of its players who are moving on to the Minor League level next year. Each one of them will be a great addition to any team.

Meanwhile, the staff looks forward to another season of fun in the year 2000 with the returning Cardinals. The coaching staff would like to thank the players for their outstanding effort during the year and the parents for their support, especially Team Parent Darlene Bulger who did an outstanding job of coordinating the team cookout, a rock-and-bowl evening and a trip to the Spinners.

Wilmington tops Tewksbury

Despite records, girls soccer teams, and rivalry carry on

By JAMIE POTE
Sports Editor

When Jessica Breslin scored a goal for Tewksbury within the first 8 minutes of its non-league game against Wilmington on Monday, it looked as if Tewksbury could be turning the corner on their season, and Wilmington was headed to disaster land.

Tewksbury came into the game winning just one-out-of-its-first-five-games, and Wilmington was one loss better at 1-3 overall. But, Tewksbury has a very young team and had only scored two goals before Monday's match-up, while, Wilmington is loaded with talent, experience, winning experience, as well as several top notch goal scorers. On top of that, Wilmington's next five games has four big Dogs to face with Masconomet, North Andover, Pentucket, Triton and Masconomet again, and a loss to Tewksbury would mean a team who is down mentally with a 1-4 record going against three very good teams.

Tewksbury came into the game without its head coach and best player. Bob Manzi had a death in his family, so assistant coach Don Greer took over the duties, and star player Racheal O'Brien went down with an injury in last week's game and is out for the season as she broke her tibia and fibula bones in her leg.

Wilmington came into the game struggling, but came out struggling, but not as much, and a win better. After trailing 1-0, Wilmington would score two goals before the first half closed, and one more in the second half in which they totally dominated for the 3-1 win on the road. By far their biggest win of the season, and one that when they look back when hopefully they are in the state tournament, will be the one that got them there.

"We needed this one," said Wilmington head coach Sue Hendee, with her eyes seemingly bigger for an exclamation point to her statement. "We have Masco, North Andover and Pentucket coming up, there's no way we could have gone into those games at 1-4."

Hendee and most of the rest of the soccer world in Wilmington expected pretty big things out of the team, and perhaps this is the game that turns the slow season around. Or is this a game they won because they were simply a better team than Tewksbury?

"It's better than what I've seen," said Hendee. "We had about 20 shots on net so offensively that's a good sign, but we still can play a lot better than what we did today."

As for the young Tewksbury squad, it's been a tough emotional ride through the first five games and this one certainly didn't make anything easier.

"We played pretty well in the first half, but we just can't seem to get over that half time hump," said Greer. "We have just five seniors on this team, so we're hoping for bigger and better things in the future.

"The girls seem to just play defense, defense and I tried to tell them to push the ball up and make (Wilmington) play defense."

Thanks to Breslin's tally, Tewksbury led 1-0 just 7:48 into the game. But with 13:29 to go in the first half, Wilmington freshman Jen Leone proved how vital she is to the Wilmington offense. Leone gave the WHS all-time goal scorer in Wildcat history in Lindsay Bruno a perfect pass so Bruno could split two Tewksbury defenders, before rifling a shot that went off the fingertips of the leaping goaltender, Kelly Boyle (17 saves) to tie the game at one.

About ten minutes later Wilmington nailed the game winner thanks again to a nice play from Leone. Getting the ball across the midfield line on the left wing, Leone gave a cross pass out of the corner to the front of the net. Both Boyle and Wilmington's Lisa Dellascio went for the ball colliding as Dellascio chipped a bouncer that went over a Tewksbury defender's foot, who was behind Boyle, and into the net and Wilmington led 2-1.

"Jen had a great game, she was a big catalyst to our offense," said Hendee. "She did very well, she's fast and I think having her up front really helps us."

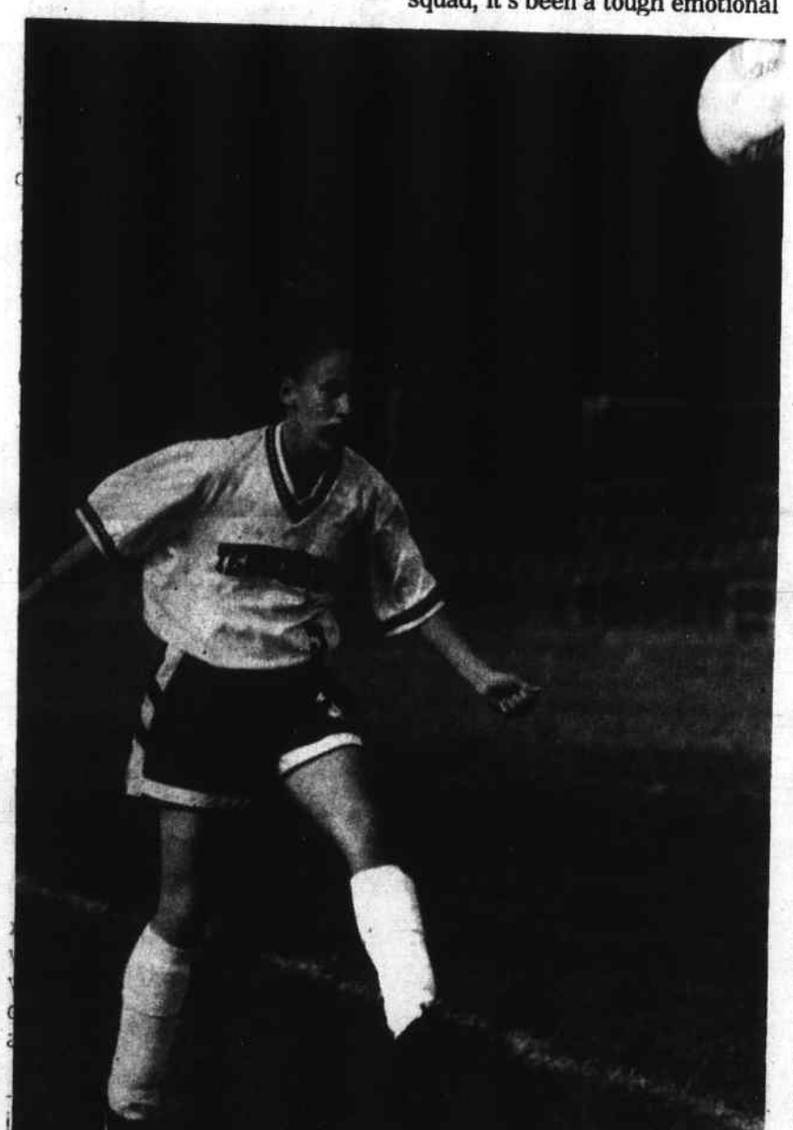

Wilmington would totally dominate the second half, with both Nicole McIver and Dellascio sending in hard shots onto Boyle early on that were caught for saves. Tewksbury's Mandy Venuti did hit the side of the Wilmington net for a good chance, and teammate Jill Witham followed that up with a gorgeous direct kick that was saved by the leaping Becky Rufo (5 saves).

Two defenders, Molly Pidgeon of Wilmington and Emma DelloRusso of Tewksbury, made fine plays to stop scoring chances and then Wilmington was able to crack another one home. With 20 minutes to go in the half, Dellascio made a beautiful cut move around a Tewksbury defender, and then launched a long pass ahead to Bruno, who again went high middle of the net over Boyle's head for the goal. Boyle played exceptionally well again, as all three goals she had no control over.

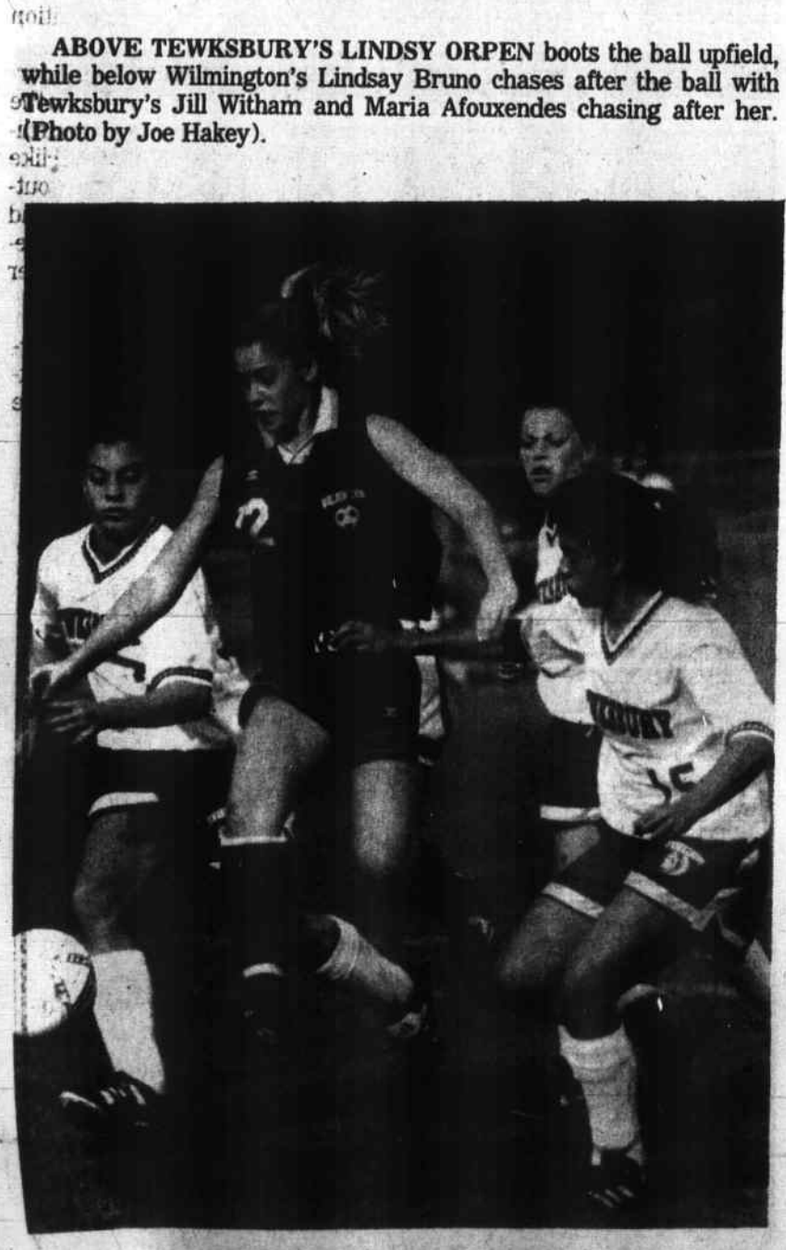

Wilmington followed that up with strong scoring chances from both Leone and Kristen Kacamburas.

Frosh comes through in biggest game

By JAMIE POTE
Sports Editor

When you know the season might be on the line just five games into it, you hope that you get an unexpected spark, and that's what Sue Hendee and the rest of the Wilmington High girls soccer team got from freshman Jen Leone.

Wilmington went into Monday's match-up against Tewksbury at 1-3, and a brutal two week five game stretch upcoming, so they couldn't dig a hole any deeper than it had be dug. So when Leone helped to bail out the team for one game, it could be two assists or one game that becomes the biggest of the season.

Currently Wilmington is off to a slow start record wise, but for this freshman forward, she's off to a very quick start, literally.

"Jen had a great game, she was a big catalyst to our offense," said Hendee. "She did very well, she's fast and I think having her up front really helps us."

But Wilmington was already stacked up front with Lindsay Bruno, the all-time leading scorer in WHS history, and another speedster Kristen Kacamburas, right?

"Wow," said Leone about playing with Bruno. "She's wicked awesome, I just try to run as fast as I can and get to the ball."

Leone said with five games under her belt now she is getting more and more comfortable of playing with Bruno, and is getting to know when she is going to do some fancy moves, or when she is going to dish the ball off. Even though Leone doesn't have any goals yet, she said she doesn't care if she never gets an assists again, as long as the team wins, and thus far they haven't come as often as the team hoped to have at this point.

"If we play our hardest like we did against Tewksbury in the second half, then we'll OK," said Leone.

When Wilmington trailed by a goal just minutes into the game, it was Leone's two terrific passes which allowed them to first tie the game, and then ultimately win it. With 13:29 to go in the first half, she sent a nice soft touch pass to Bruno who was able to split two defenders and boot one to the top of the net over the outstretched Kelly Boyle.

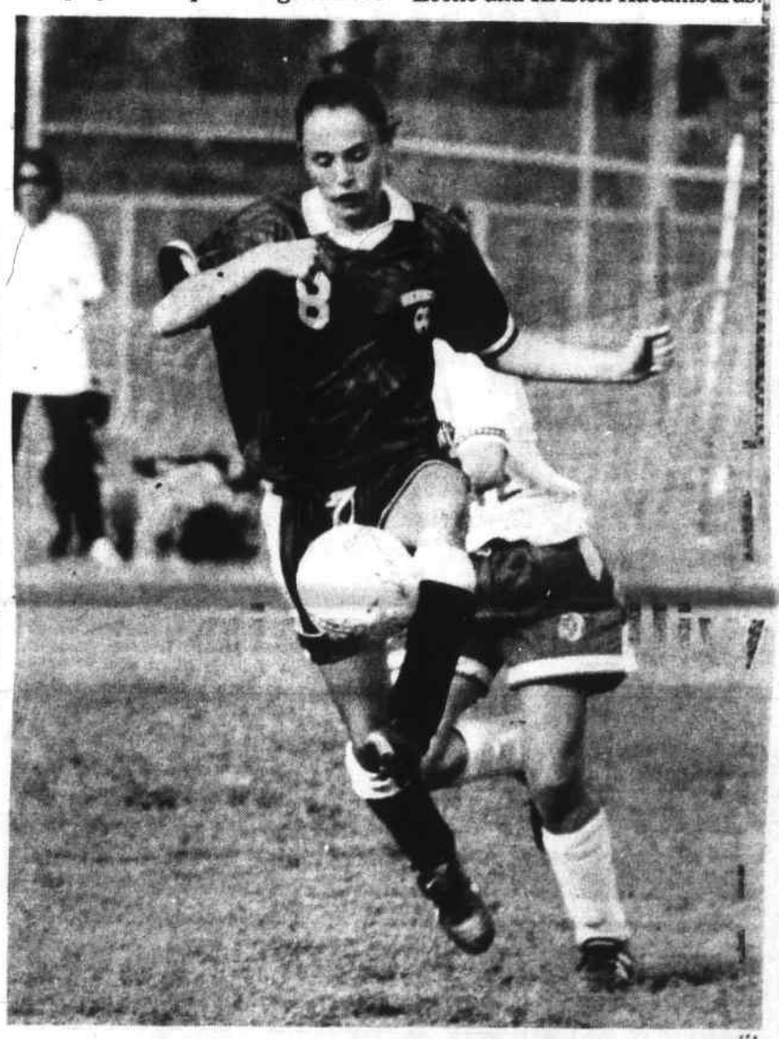

"I'm really happy (to be playing with Bruno)," said Leone. "I look up to her, she's kind of a role model to me."

Then ten minutes later, she took a pass at midfield, displayed her speed and went down the sidelines before crossing it to the middle where Lisa Dellasco finished it off.

"I felt a defender on me, and I saw (Lisa) was open, so I passed it," said Leone.

When and if the team makes it to the state tournament, this is the game and the two assists that could have been the ultimate breaker. All by a freshman who wasn't sure if she was going to make the team to begin with.

"I was ecstatic," said Leone giggling, about if she had thought she would make the big club. "I'm still nervous."

Golfers off to a surprising 5-3-1 start

By David Flynn
Sports Correspondent

Wilmington's golf head coach Al Fessenden liked what he saw from his team this past week. Having lost four of his top players a year ago to graduation, Fessenden did not know how his young golf team would respond to the task of playing four tough matches in a week.

He now knows and is pleased with the results.

The Wildcats were victorious against Amesbury (12-0), Pentucket (7-5), and Hamilton-Wenham (7-5), but suffered a defeat at the hands of Lynnfield (7-5). Fessenden hoped to win at least two games, so, winning three was a bonus.

"We hoped we could split at least," said Fessenden, commenting on the goals for the week. "But, we came out of the blocks fast."

The Wildcats' first match against Amesbury was all Wilmington as they dominated their opponent in every area. Junior Jason Youngclaus (5 & 4), freshman Jordan Ungvarsky (2 & 1), freshman Dave Velardo, senior Evan O'Neil (3 &1), sophomore Aaron Ungvarsky (2 up) and junior Brian Velardo (4 &2) all won their matches. Aaron Ungvarsky, who played in the #2 position was the low medalist of the day with a score of 39.

"It was a great win," said Fessenden. "The kids played really well."

The Wildcats' dominance did not last long as they faced a strong Lynnfield squad and fell 7-5. Youngclaus (2 & 1), Dave Velardo (halved), and sophomore Kyle Burns (2 up) earned the points for Wilmington. Playing in his first match of the season, Burns not only picked up the win, but he shot the low score of the day with a 38.

"It was a great win for him," said Fessenden, of Burns. "I knew he could do it."

The Wildcats traveled to the Bradford Golf Course on Monday in hope of getting back on the winning track against Pentucket. Wilmington received great play from the middle of the lineup as #3, Aaron Ungvarsky (4 & 3), #4 David Velardo (1 up), and #6 Jordan Ungvarsky (4 & 3) all won their matches to lead the Wildcats to a 7-5 victory.

David Velardo's five foot put on the final hole sealed the match for the Wildcats. Aaron Ungvarsky shot a 1 under par 34 for the low score.

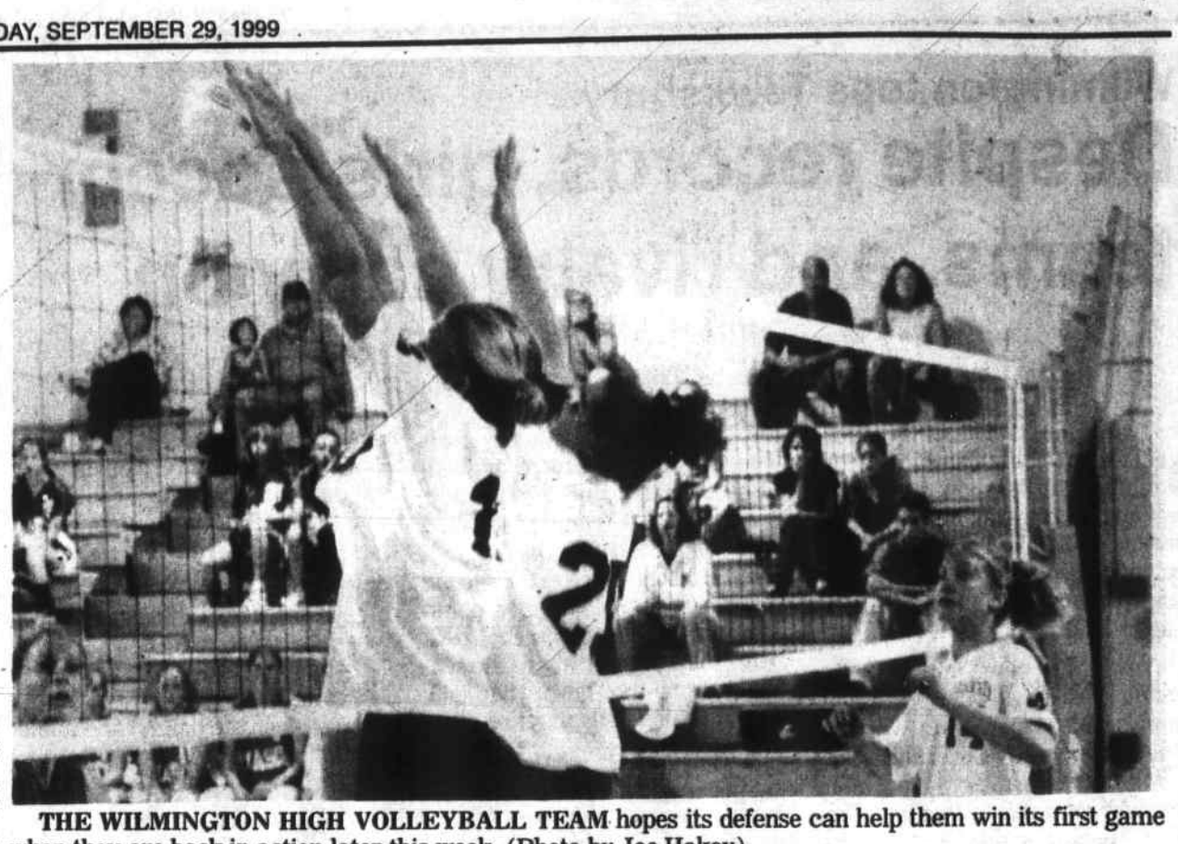

On Tuesday, the Wildcats traveled to the site of many US Opens as they played Hamilton-Wenham at Myopia. Fessenden was concerned that the difficulty of the course would bother his players. However,for the third time, the Wildcats pulled off a win 7-5.

Brian Velardo, Youngclaus, and David Velardo each earned points by halving their matches. Jordan Ungvarsky won his match 1 up and newcomer, junior Mike Montalto hit a 10 foot putt to bogey the final hole to win his match 1 up.

The victory against Hamilton-Wenham improved the Wildcats record to 5-3-1. Fessenden's young squad is playing like seasoned veterans and every player is doing their part to help the team.

"There are a lot of kids playing in different positions and winning some key matches," said Fessenden. "The 7-#10 golfers are really stepping up and challenging the guys in the lineup."

Fessenden went on to say about the outcome of the matches, "I am really happy."

Freshmen field hockey off and running

The opening game of the Freshmen Wildcat Field Hockey Team was on September 13. They played at home against Pentucket with a fantastic win of 6-0. The team was outstanding with goals by Danielle Cormier, Brittany Diorio, Ashley Veator and Ashley Young. Ashley Young scored an amazing three goals!

The girls played a great game for a new team. This is only the second year the high school has fielded a freshmen team.

On September 15, the Wildcats second opponent was Newburyport. Both teams played a good defensive game. They were able to block any scoring, thanks to a great defense and awesome goalies.

Despite the fury of Floyd's wind and rain on Friday, September 17, the freshmen Wildcat Field Hockey teamed up against North Andover with great enthusiasm. The Wildcats dominated the game right from the start. All the girls played a fantastic offensive game. They managed to persevere through the slippery, wet conditions. Goals were scored by Ashley Veator and Ashley Young to give the Wildcats the win with a final score of 2-0. Our outstanding goalie, Heather See, was always ready to defend our net. She has played three superb shutouts!! Congratulations!

We are fortunate to have Leanne McConologue as the new freshmen coach this year. She also played field hockey as a WHS Wildcat. She is doing an outstanding job with the team. The girls are learning excellent field hockey skills as well as the importance of comradery. Also, many thanks to Margaret Cavanaugh, another Wildcat alumni whose love for field hockey brought her back to assist with the coaching.

Keep up the great teamwork girls. We wish you continued success!

Cross Country teams looking for more

By JAMIE POTE
Sports Editor

Both the Wilmington boys and girls cross country teams lost to North Andover last week, but things are looking up for the program. Known for just having a handful of female runners, head coach Tom Bradley will have his first middle school meet featuring 29 kids going to Westford Academy. Hopefully some of those runners will continue with the sport and give the high school team the much needed support it needs.

Against North Andover, the boys got a great effort from Jay Gillis who took first place, but unfortunately that wasn't enough as the boys lost 20-41. As for the girls Barbara Tate took fourth, while the dramatically improved Layna Daykin took eighth as the girls fell 23-39.

Right now the boys are 2-2 and the girls are 1-3 and Bradley hopes several more wins are coming the kids' way.

"The girls only won one meet last year and it came in the last one, so already having a win this year is nice. Hopefully we can get a couple more," said Bradley. "The boys finished 7-4 last year and right now the schedule is more favorable actually to both the boys and girls teams so hopefully the guys can repeat last year's win total. We have four freshmen boys and one very good one in Keith Frongillo, and 3 freshmen girls, so hopefully we can get this feeder program going."

C team carries heavy offense against Lexington

Wilmington C team 26
Lexington 7

Joe Herra started the scoring off by throwing 2 touchdown passes, one of 55 yards to Mike Fitzgerald and the other 30 yards to Chris Crescenzo. Joey continued the scoring on a run of 47 yards. Capping off the scoring Chris Crescenzo recovered a fumbled punt in the endzone. Great blocking from Brad Hodgson, Jon Maimaron, Mike Sorrentino, A.J. Zammuto, Mike Haepers, James McGowan, Ryan Winn, Eric Steenbrugen, John Ryan, Mike Johnson, Steven Crowe, David Sweet, Connor Moroney and great running by Tim Surghue, Brendan Warford, Tim Brady, Sean McSweeney and Mike McPherson. Defensive standouts were Sean Coates and Brendan Gibson.

Wilmington B Team 7
Lexington 13

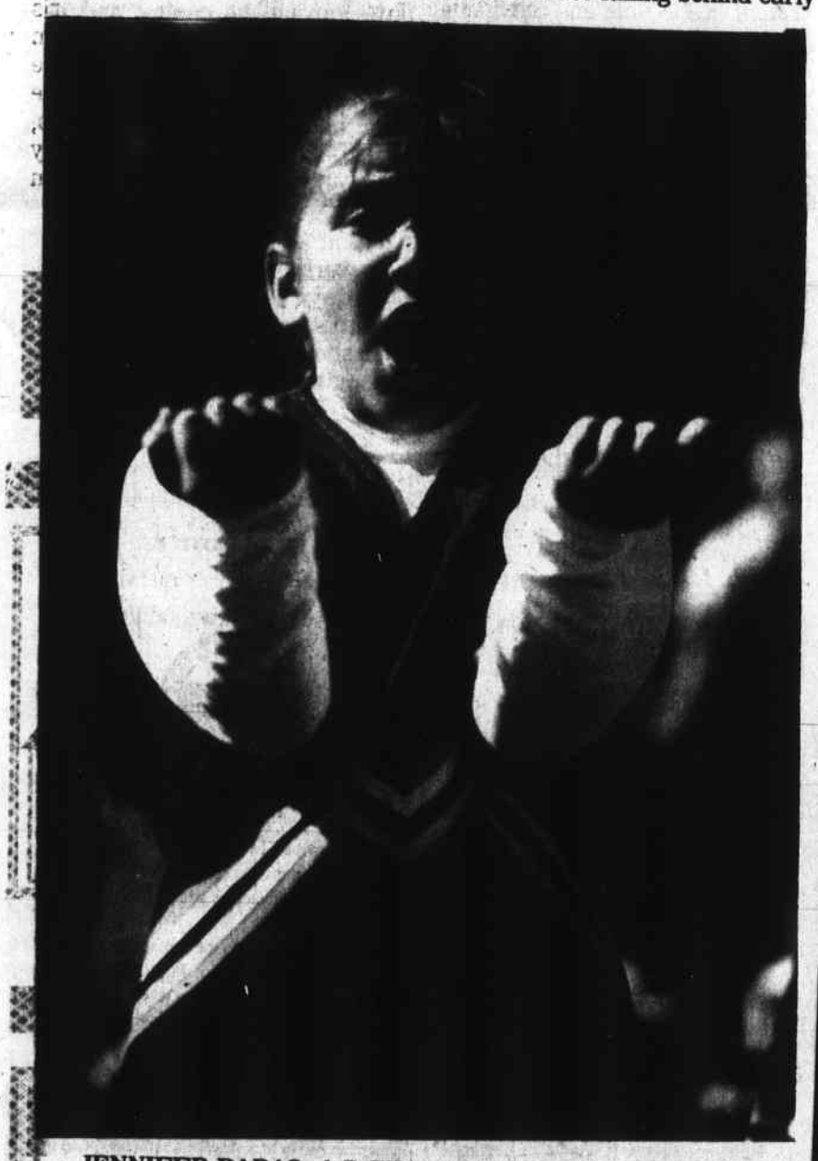

In a hard fought game the B squad lost a tough won in overtime to lexington by a score of 13-7. The B's were led offensively by James Ciulla and Lou Insalaco. Defensively Steve Downs once again led the way with his agressive play. Thanks as always to the great cheering of the B team girls.

Wilmington Wildcats Mighty Mites White lost to Lexington at Glen Road on Sunday, 24-0. Lexington displayed a very balanced offense featuring power running up the middle and strong speed to the outside. After falling behind early the Wildcats were forced to adjust from their strength of power running off tackle to sweeping the ends and converting to the Drew Bledsoe air attack.

Lexington proved to strong on defense countering to each of the Wildcats offensive shifts. Highlighting the offense for Wilmington was a 30 yard pass play from first time quarterback Scott Sutherland to Anthony Morlani. Also contributing strong offensive runs for the Wildcats were Billy Stukey and Tyler Savoie.

Showing improved line play on offense were John Moriarty, Dan MacKinnon and Billy Reynolds. A solid effort on defense was contributed by Billy Alcott, Matthew Larffarello and Nolan Giroux.

The MIghty Mite White coaches would like to thank the minimum play sheet keepers for their help each week. The coaches look forward to another week of solid practice and appreciate the team spirit, sportsmanship and continued commitment to learning put forth by the Mighty Mite White players.

Under 10A Girls face Woburn

The Cyclones, Wilmington's U10 A girls team, showed what they were made of last Saturday hosting a match against Woburn's undefeated A team in Division 1 competition.

The Cyclones practiced furiously last week, nervously preparing for a tough game, after hearing Woburn's taunting threats of certain victory.

Wilmington started off strong, blasting shots at the keeper and keeping the ball out of Cyclone territory. Midway through the first half the score was 0-0. The Cyclones couldn't seem to get on the scoreboard despite shots from each player including sweepers Jessica Stira and Dana Nolan.

Goal #1 was the result of a steal by forward Elizabeth Wilson. Elizabeth dribbled the ball up and rifled a shot that the keeper could only slap away. Midfielder Jen O'Neill came racing down the middle of the field picking up the rebound and sending a hard shot into the net. The half ended with Wilmington up 1-0.

The second half began with Jessica Labrecque cruising up the right side as forward and sending a high flying shot at the goalie. Woburn's keeper got a piece of the ball but it sailed over her head and into the net. Christa Cavallaro was ready for the rebound on the left side of the net. Christa kept the pressure on Woburn throughout the game, firing shots at the keeper and using every part of her body to get the ball in the net.

The Cyclones were up by just two when Woburn orchestrated a nice breakaway. Keeper Leah Potcner smartly ran out to cut down the angel as Woburn took the shot. As Leah slid to the ball, it sailed by and continued to glide toward the net. Midfielder Stephanie Sauve came flying down the center of the field in a race with a Woburn forward. When it seemed that a goal was inevitable, Stephanie turned on the speed, beat the player and cleared the ball as it made its way to the white line.

Things would never be that close again, as the Cyclones displayed their unmatched skill and teamwork and opened up the field for three more quick goals.

Goal #3 was a combination from forwards Brittany Concannon and Nicole Nihan. Brittany, after countless shots on net of her own including a hart post shot, dribbled the ball up the line and crossed it over to Nicole on left wing. Nicole received the pass then quickly shot it by the keeper. That would be the first of two goals for Nicole, who soon after returned a goal kick and blasted it into the twine for #4 of the game.

The fifth and final score was by midfielder Katie Cole. Katie took a shot packing so much power that it bounced off a defender, right back at Katie's stomach and never touched the ground before slamming into the net. The game ended with a score of 5-0 improving the Cyclones' record to 3-0-0.

The team is still looking for competition, out scoring its opponents 12-0 in just three games, with goalie Leah Potcner still perfect in the net. Next week the girls travel to Billerica for game 4 of Division 1 fall soccer play.

Cyclones continue to dominate

The girls U10 "A" Cyclone team continues to dominate on the field while playing in the top division of Middlesex Youth Soccer, Division 1. The team has been unchallenged thus far outscoring their opponents 7-0 in just two games of fall season play.

This past Saturday on a road trip to North Reading, the Cyclones were unstoppable, upsetting North Reading Hornets with a score of 3-0. The Cyclone forwards including Brittany Concannon, Jessica Labrecque, Elizabeth Wilson, Christa Cavallaro and Nicole Nihan kept the pressure on the defense creating many early scoring opportunities.

Supported by midfielders Jen O'Neill, Katie Cole and Stephanie Sauve, sweepers Dana Nolan and Jessica Stira were able to make offensive runs and fire shots at the North Reading goalie. The score at half time was 0-0 as the Cyclone team sailed shots high, right and left of the net. Stephanie Sauve made the first shot in half two with a high flying shot at the goalie. The goalie miskicked the return and Elizabeth Wilson was all over the ball, firing it into the net for a 1-0 lead. Within minutes, Jen O'Neill took a strong run up the right side of the field blasting a long shot past the goalie and putting the Cyclones up 2-0

Christa Cavallaro got a big assist for the third and final goal of the game as she stole the ball from a North Reading defender and weaved her way up the field. From the right side of the field, Christa took a long hard crossing shot at the net. The shot passed the goalie but wouldn't have made it into the net if not for a perfectly positioned Nicole Nihan who ran the ball into the net for Wilmington.

Brittany Concannon played her heart out at right wing sending shot after shot at the Hornets' goal. Katie Cole provided solid play, skillfully controlling the midfield and stifling the Hornets' offense. Keeper Leah Potcner was called upon only a few times during the contest and as usual was up for the challenge turning away any attempts by North Reading. Leah is still unscored upon, not seeing too much action behind stellar sweepers Jessica Stira and Dana Nolan.

The team's season record now stands at 2-0-0. The Cyclones have their work cut out for them next Saturday when they take on Woburn's undefeated "A" team for what should be an exciting noontime match at Textron Field.

Under 11 Boys off to terrific start with 5-0 win over Melrose

Last year Wilmington's U10 Boys A & B teams represented the town in the prestigious Commissioner's Cup with Coach Bill Kent's A team capturing the title. This year's move up to the big field has done little to slow Wilmington down. In its first test of the 1999 season the U11 Boys A team blanked Melrose 5-0. Richie Barry's goal set up by a fine assist from Dana Steenbruggen got things started on the right foot. At the other end of the field the defensive coalition of Zach Church, C.J. Jeanette, Matt Brooks and Brian Johnson made life easy for goalie Pat Ryan.

The combo of Richie Barry and Derek Hanson assisted on the next goal scored by Tim Kent. Relentless offensive pressure by Josh Mayo and Greg Stewart continued through the end of the first half, which ended with Wilmington ahead 2-0.

The second half began on a frustrating note with a goal by Chris Azevedo negated due to an offside's call. Undaunted, the team scored again when Brendan DeMango set up Justin Patrie for the third goal of the game. Later, Shane Foley netted the team's fourth goal on a nice assist from Greg Stewart. The scoring ended the way it began with Richie Barry beating the Melrose goalie after a solid assist from Tim Kent.

The next test of the team came from a tough Concord Carlisle contingent. An early bid for a score came when a perfect lead pass from Tim Kent sent Justin Patrie on a breakaway. Patrie's blast was stopped at the last second by Concord's net minder. Although Wilmington carried the action early on, it was Concord Carlisle that drew first blood. A breakaway by Concord midway through the half resulted in a high shot over the outstretched arms of Wilmington's goalie.

Wilmington answered quickly when Justin Patrie muscled control of the ball deep in the corner and lofted a perfect centering pass to Josh Mayo who hammered it home to tie the score at one apiece. Wilmington struck again when Rickie Barry stole the ball deep in Concord's territory, dribbled deftly through several defenders and fired a missile by the diving goalie. Concord responded with a strong offensive surge which was turned back time and again by C.J. Jeanette and Zach Church. This strong defense and solid goal tending by Brendan Sheehan kept Wilmington in the lead at the half, 2-1.

The intensity level increased in the second half, with Concord pressing heavily. Brian Johnson managed to thwart several Concord breakaways. Concord finally tied the score when a scramble in front of the net produced a high chip shot into the corner. It was time for Wilmington to dig deep. A yellow card on Concord lead to a free kick by Brendan Sheehan that went just wide. Shane Foley's attempt to regain the lead was denied on a brilliant save by Concord's goalie. Wilmington finally regained the lead when Foley fed Chris Azevedo whose shot toward the goal was driven in by the streaking Dana Steenbruggen.

Neither team was willing to let up. A long lead pass turned into a race between Concord's goalie and a flying Derek Hanson. Both players arrived at the ball at the same time, with the force sending Hanson soaring high in the air over the valiant Concord goalie. It was no surprise when action stopped a few minutes later due to injury. Wilmington continued on the attack with Brendan DeMango, Justin Patrie and Richie Barry carrying the offense deep in Concord's zone. When Concord did venture out, Matt Brooks was there to repel the affront. And when Concord managed to slip by the defenders, goalie Pat Ryan was there to handle the assaults without further damage.

Late in the half a foul call gave Wilmington a free kick just over mid field. Tim Kent lined it up and drilled the shot cleanly past the Concord goalie. Later Shane Foley sent a perfect pass from the left corner to a charging Greg Stewart who punched it in for the final tally of the game. The hard fought battle ended with Wilmington on top of a 5-2 score.

Panthers playing well

Wilmington Girls U10, Division 3A "Panthers" team opened its season with a decisive 5-1 win over Waltham. The strong offensive and defensive playing by the team kept them in control of the game from start to finish.

The opening goal for Wilmington was scored very early in the game by Ryan Giroux. The great offensive game played by forward Natalie Melkonian kept the pressure on Waltham throughout the first half.

Jessica Metcalfe helped to carry the momentum generated by the Panthers in the first half into the second half by playing both a great defensive and offensive game in the position of midfielder. Danielle Fiorentino scored the first goal of the second half, followed by a goal from Jessica Metcalfe. Jessica scored her second goal in the second half off a strong left foot kick. The defensive playing of Kate Stevenson and Cameron Woodbury was consistently strong throughout the game and helped to keep Wilmington in control of the play,.

Alyssa Brown played an excellent first half in goal having many saves, including a hard fought scramble to recover a loose ball in front of the goal. Alyssa Brown came out of the net in the second half to score Wilmington's fifth goal. Nicole Sullivan gave a great performance in the net in the second half with several key saves.

Wilmington vs Medford United

The record of the Wilmington girls U10, Division 3A "Panthers" team now stands at 2-0 after a 2-1 win over Medford United.

Medford took an early lead in the first half after scoring their only goal of the game during the opening minutes. The Panthers managed to shut down the offensive efforts of Medford with a strong showing of defensive players Cameron Woodbury, Kate Stevenson and goalie Alyssa Brown. The Panthers offense began to take control of the play toward the end of the first half led by forward Natalie Melkonian and midfielder Jessica Metcalfe.

The Wilmington Panthers came out to start the second half with some very strong playing. The Panthers took control of the play and the game throughout the second half. Natalie Melkonian and Cameron Woodbury had some great shots on goal to keep the pressure on Medford. Goalie Alyssa Brown helped to keep Wilmington's offensive momentum going by having some great saves followed by strong throws to clear the ball out of Wilmington's territory.

The first Panther goal of the game was scored by Jessica Metcalfe. Jessica stole the ball away from a Medford player and quickly maneuvered the ball up the field to find an open spot where she launched her shot on goal. The Panthers' second goal was scored just moments later by Ryan Giroux. Ryan evaded Medford's defensive efforts to find her spot to fire her shot.

Mite A's overtake Devils, 7-1

Wilmington's Eric Siegel scored the Cats first four goals of the game and the Mite A's never looked back as they beat Burlington's Mite A's 7-1.

Mike DeRosa was in net for the Cats and looked solid between the pipes stopping several good bids by Burlington. Eric took a feed from Dan Cushing at the Wilmington blue line and shot five hole for his first score.

Conor Murphy sent Eric in for his second score when he deked the goalie and backhanded the puck in the net. Alan Michael Santos had a shot handed bid just go wide and Nick Riccio sent Conor Murphy in and his bid just went wide and the Cats were ahead only 2-0 after one.

Eric sent one top corner from Matt Stokes for his hat trick and sent a back hander by the goalie on a feed from Nick Riccio for a 4 -0 lead after two. Burlington tried to make a game of it by scoring early on the third but the Cats Conor Murphy answered a minute later when he took a feed from Matt Stokes and rushed up ice beating the goalie. Nick Riccio scored when he got the puck off the face off and Alan Michael Santos scored on a nice feed from Eric Siegel.

The defense was led by Dan Cushing, Matt Stokes, Steven Dunnett and Andrew Goossens playing stingy in front Mike DeRosa. Justin Dirienzo and Mike Jensen provided the harassing back checking in this 7-1 win for the Cats

Wilmington 10 N. Middlesex 0

The Dual State League's first game pitted the Cats against North Middlesex's Mite As. The Cats were missing four players due to soccer conflicts but did not need them as they crushed North Middlesex 10-0. Andrew Goossens had the hat trick and an assist in this game. Eric Siegel had the hat truck and two assists followed by individual goals scored by Dan Cushing, Mike Jensen, Alan Michael Santos and Steve Dunnett. Nick Riccio earned a play maker patch with four assists in this contest followed by Mike Jenson with two and Alan Michael Santos, Cam Fitzpatrick and Matt Stokes had one each.

Anthony Botte who was called up from the B team saw only one shot in goal, but made the stop preserving the shutout for the Cats. The Cats out played North Middlesex from the opening faceoff and never let them get close to the Wilmington net. Passing was the focal point in this game and the Cats delivered. With only nine skaters in action the Cats never tired, playing fantastic two way hockey.

Wilmington 10 Billerica 2

The Wilmington Mite A's took their third straight Valley League win, beating Billerica 10-2. Conor Murphy was between the pipes for the Cats stopping several good bids by Billerica. Eric Siegel got the Cats on the board early roofing the puck over the goalie's right shoulder for the score with assist going to Andrew Goossens and Matt Stokes. Nick Riccio tapped in a pass from Casey Pickett in the slot with Justin Dirienzo also assisting on the play for the 2-0 lead after one period.

Michael Jensen gathered the puck in a scramble in front of the Billerica net for his first goal of the day with assists from Steven Dunnett and Dan Cushing. Billerica tried to make a game of it as they scored the next two goals, the first off a deflection, but the Cats answered with four more in the second. Mike DeRosa rushed end to end beating the goalie top corner then scored on a pass from Nick Riccio at the top of the right faceoff circle.

Eric Siegel notched his second of the game when he took a pass from Andrew Goossens in low and deposited the puck top corner. Mike Jensen banged in his own shot with an assist to Dan Cushing. The defense played great with Cam Fitzpatrick, Steven Dunnett, Matt Stokes and Mike DeRosa playing solid in front of Conor Murphy. Casey Pickett took a feed in the slot from Justin Dirienzo and Nick Riccio for the score. Anthony Botte set up Eric for his hat trick and Mike DeRosa notched his hat trick with helpers to Dan Cushing and Alan Michael Santos, Danny earning a play maker patch for his efforts.

Great overall game for the Cats as they are passing the puck well and creating scoring chances.

Under 11A boys ventured to Waltham

On a sunny Saturday afternoon Wilmington's U11 Boys A team ventured down to Waltham in search of its next victory. As has been their pattern, Wilmington carried the action from the outset. Tim Kent tested Waltham's goalie early with a surface-to-air missile launched just over mid-field. Wilmington was able to press the attack as each attempted breakaway by Waltham was stopped dead by the impenetrable defense of Brian Johnson and Zach Church. Wilmington nearly broke through when Shane Foley's blast ten minutes into the game hit the left post. A few moments later Waltham's goalie leapt high to stop Greg Stewart's bid for a goal. Finally, after Pat Ryan and Josh Mayo refused to let up on the offensive assault, a nice feed lead to Dana Steenbruggen's goal.

Waltham responded with its first serious offensive flurry. However, a nice steal by Chris Azevedo reversed the momentum back in Wilmington's favor. The half ended with Wilmington owning a precarious 1-0 lead.

Early in the second half C.J. Jeanette leapt in front of a Waltham goal kick directing a header to the charging Josh Mayo who kicked home the second goal of the game. Wilmington's offensive onslaught continued unabated. A perfect centering lob pass from Jeanette connected with Steenbruggen for a brilliant header into the net and an apparent third goal. However, the official waived it off on a late out-of-bounds call. A spectacular save by Waltham's goalie on a shot by Mayo lead to a threatening breakaway. In the nick of time Brendan Sheehan stepped in and derailed the attack.

Wilmington struck again when Tim Kent stole a pass at mid-field, dribbled nicely through a throng of defenders and drilled a high shot just past he outstretched arms of the goalie. Moments later, Matt Brooks intercepted an errant Waltham pass and sent Justin Patrie in for a breakaway. Patrie's first attempt was stopped by the goalie, but his follow-up after the save found the corner of the net for a 4-0 Wilmington lead.

Wilmington sustained its offensive attack with Brendan DeMango exhibiting his leg strength with three successive long distance bombs on net. Waltham's late efforts to dump the ball out of the zone were met each time by the scrappy Derek Hanson who adroitly redirected the ball back into the offensive zone. In the closing moments another Waltham goal kick was nearly converted into a score when Richie Barry pilfered the pass and blasted a shot on goal. The weary Waltham goalie managed to stop any further damage, leaving the final score at 4-0 Wilmington.

Under 9A boys overtake Somerville

The Wilmington boys U9A travel soccer team traveled to Somerville I on a rainy Saturday morning for another action packed game.

Kevin Moran started in goal for the Wildcats with great protection from sweeper Ryan Searles. The locals were first to be on the scoreboard as forward Mike DeRosa took the ball in on his own, with a low shot to the near post. But Somerville answered back only seconds later. This marked the beginning of a frantic back and forth battle that would last until the final whistle (literally).

Justin DiRienzo and Jason Pereira were awesome in midfield, fighting to gain ball possession and setting up their forward line. Forwards Mike Scola and Colin Wilson also challenged the Somerville keeper. Before the half came to a close, Somerville went ahead by a goal, only to have it tied up as DeRosa fed the ball to Kenny Vassallo. Vassallo was in perfect position to spin around and tuck the ball into the corner of the goal.

The second half had Colin Wilson taking over as keeper and Moran joining Ricky Belding on the forward line. Somerville again went ahead and moments later a quick passing sequence paid off as Belding assisted Moran who fired off a beautiful shot and brought the game back to a 3-3 tie. Stephen Stewart and Jonathan Spurr, along with Scola and Searles maintained the Wildcats defensive zone.

The game continued to be a series of attacks and counterattacks. Once again Somerville went ahead. Then aggressive play by Belding drew a direct kick as he was taken down in the box.

The Wildcats turned to Kevin Moran to take the kick; Moran's shot was such a blast it left the Somerville keeper stunned. Game tied up again at 4-4.

Wilmington's DiRienzo, Pereira, Scola and Stewart formulated more attacks but with less than a minute to play, Somerville pulled ahead for the final time. The whistle blew just as Wilmington was in the goal box and set to fire off another round of shots.

This was an absolutely fabulous match to watch. Each team played hard but fair in the constant rain and all should be extremely impressed by the effort put forth by all the players. Final score - Wilmington 4; Somerville 3.

SPOT POND

Stoneham reservoir is now open to the public

By DOUG WOOD-BOYLE

Since 1898 Spot Pond has served as a scenic site that served the area with much of its need for water but was off-limits to close exploration due to its distinction as a Metropolitan District Commission (MDC) and more recently a Massachusetts Water Resources Authority (MWRA) reservoir.

As Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts and nature lovers explored the surrounding Virginia Woods and the Sheepfold, Spot Pond itself was off-limits. That is no longer true as of July 1.

Due to work done by the MWRA which resulted in the nearby Fells Reservoir being capped for use as drinking water, Spot Pond is now open as a recreational boating and fishing area.

MDC Commissioner David Balfour, Jr. noted that the 10 rowboats, six canoes and one kayak will be available to the public on weekends, from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., until Columbus Day, Monday, October 11. From July 1 to Labor Day they were available on a daily basis.

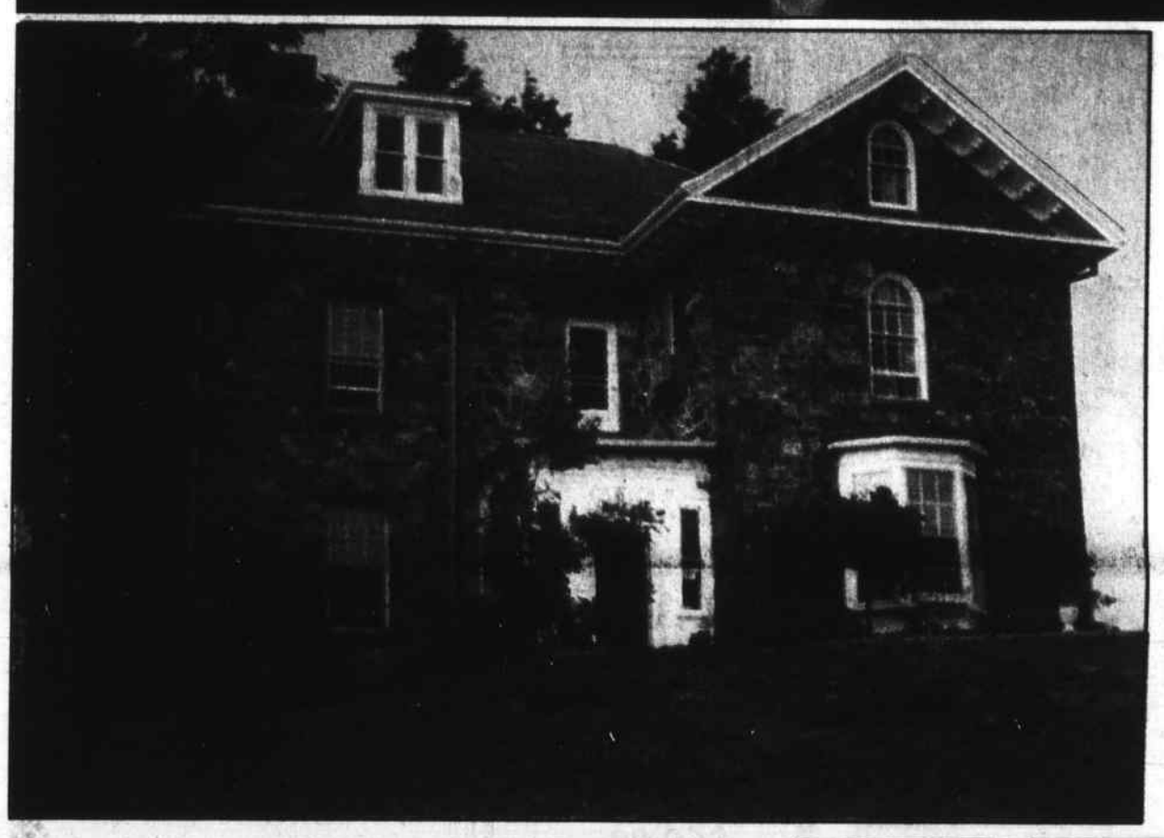

MDC North Region Supervisor Karl Pastore said, "It has been extremely popular."

According to estimates by the MDC close to 600 people used the new facility in July alone. Commissioner Balfour noted that the surrounding area is undergoing an accelerated betterment which will include new sidewalks along Pond Street in Stoneham to Woodland Road in Malden and Elm Street in Medford.

The walkway will continue down Elm Street to Route 28 and, for the present, pass underneath Interstate 93, follow along the Sheepfold and then cross over to Spot Pond and pick up on Pond Street again. A pathway is being designed to cross over Spot Pond by way of a boardwalk in the area of Interstate 93. The pathway will go between the Stone Zoo and the pond allowing users to get a glimpse of some seldom seen views.

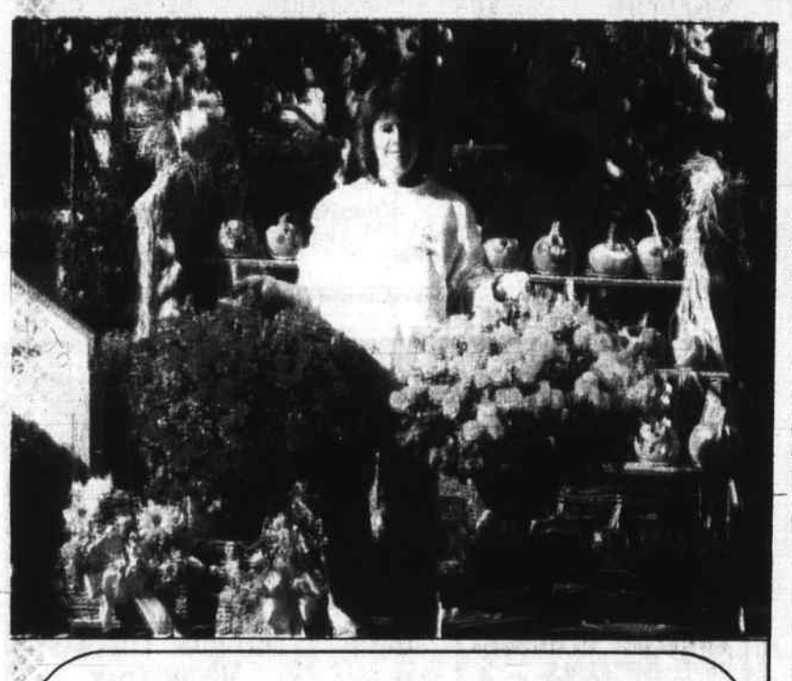

For those people who do not wish to walk along Elm Street, the well marked Woodland Path continues out of the Virginia

COMMISSIONER DAVID B. BALFOUR, JR., head of the Metropolitan District Commission (MDC) stands with the fleet of canoes and boats (above) that have been available for the public's use on Spot Pond in Stoneham this year. At left is the Bothume House which has been restored as part of the mitigation package paid for by the Massachusetts Water Resources Authority, the agency that turned control of the Pond back to the MDC. The house is being used as offices for the Commission and a visitor and conference center for the general public.

Capt. Dan Gately stopped a car for speeding. When he noticed three priests were the occupants he asked for an explanation. The driver Father Tom said, "We are going on a sick call." "Now wait a minute," Capt. Gately exclaimed, "I was an alter server for 5 years, I graduated from Boston College and I've been a police officer for 10 years and I never heard of three priests going on a sick call." Father Tom smiled and replied, "With all due respects Capt., you may be too young to remember a Solemn High Mass. Well, this is a Solemn High Sick Call."

Rodney Dangerfield says that he gets no respect-well I don't get much either. I told my jokes,

Stoneham High Boosters Comedy Night October 2

The Stoneham High Booster Club and the Stoneham Community Police will be hosting a Comedy Night on October 2 at Montvale Plaza in Stoneham. Well known comedians, Lenny Clarke, Teddy Bergerson, Jackie Flynn and master of ceremony, Johnny Pizzi, will provide a hilarious evening.

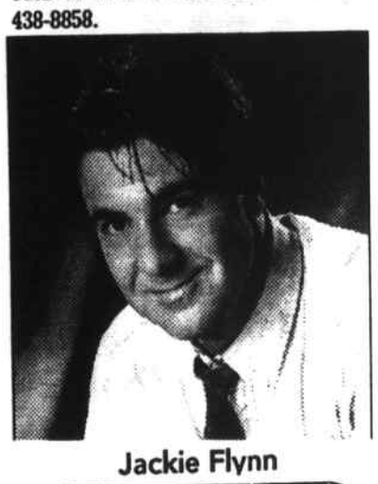

Social hour begins at 6:30 p.m. with a full course dinner served at 7:30 p.m., the Comedy Show will follow at 9 p.m.

The ticket cost for this "FUN"RAISER is $45 per person.

The Booster Club promotes, supports and encourages all students to participate in athletic activities. The Club over the years has been very successful in accomplishing this goal. The 1998-99 school year had over 300 athletes participating in each season. The club hosts seasonal banquets, presents scholarships, jackets and other awards to those deserving athletes with a record of participation and high achievement.

With budget cuts continuing to deplete the revenues available to high school sports, the proceeds from this fundraiser will help keep Stoneham's athletic program healthy.

All proceeds benefit Stoneham High Athletics. For tickets call Mary at (781) 665-3631 or Montvale Plaza at (781) 438-8858.

Collection of used textiles Oct. 2

READING — The 8th Used Textiles and Leather Goods Collection will be held on Saturday, Oct. 2, 8-2 (rain or shine), at the Reading DPW garage on Newcrossing Road (off of Walker's Brook Drive).

By saving used textiles and leather goods and giving them to the upcoming collection, one saves them from the trash and helps give money to local and church charities.

Donations of used clothing, household linens, stuffed animals, fabric scraps, paired leather footwear, belts, and purses — all in bags or boxes — will be gratefully accepted. (Damaged, spotted, or torn items are OK — but please, no non-textiles, wet or oil-soaked textiles, rugs and carpeting, pillows, mattresses, or upholstered furniture.)

Members of the sponsoring organization, the Unitarian Universalist Church of Reading, will be on hand to unload cars and say "thanks!"

Ecosmith of New Hampshire will pay for the textiles and leather goods by the pound. All proceeds will be donated to the Reading Food Pantry and to the UUCR's Unitarian partner church in Romania.

The Council for Textile Recycling reports that 93 percent of the goods collected by companies like Ecosmith are reused or recycled. Most reusable clothing is sent overseas to developing countries, where it is washed, repaired, and resold.

Non-reusable materials are ground up and find their way into wiper cloths, padding for car interiors, batting for building insulation, and fiber for rag-bond paper.

In the seven previous collections, donors have given a useful second life to 52,340 pounds' worth of used materials and helped raise $3466.37 in charitable donations.

About the Towns by Phyllis Nissen

Perspectives on the family tree

Nothing could be finer in Winchester!

"When Thomas McCarter and Michael Heath left Winchester, they had no idea they would return 10 days later as international soccer stars," notes the Winchester edition of the "Daily Times Chronicle."

"McCarter and Heath represented Massachusetts in this year's Special Olympics World Games, held in North Carolina, where they placed fourth among several national and international soccer teams.

"When the men and their families first arrived in Raleigh, North Carolina, Thomas' mother Alice McCarter said 'the town was absolutely taken over by the Special Olympics. There were signs welcoming us everywhere.'

"From the airport, the men traveled to the North Carolina State University dorms where they would reside for the week.

"Once settled, they went to check out the facilities that would be known as their home turf for the upcoming week of matches.

"According to Alice, there were six full size practice fields and one stadium size field, along with some other smaller fields.

"'It was an absolutely tremendous facility,' said Alice. 'It resembles the MDC softball facility we have here. It was just breathtaking.'

"That Saturday night the 1999 Special Olympics World Games officially commenced with the opening ceremonies which took place at the NC State football field.

"According to Michael's father, Donn Heath, the ceremony began with the marching in of approximately 75,000 athletes from each country, the raising of the Special Olympics flag and the lighting of the torch with the flame that came from Greece.

"'The opening ceremonies were touching,' said Donn. 'It really laid it on the line what the whole thing is about. It's incredible to see world athletes and to see the looks on the faces of these kids. It is really unbelievable....'"

Swinging in style in North Reading

"At age 24, Chris Carter has already achieved one of his major career goals when he recently passed the PGA pro exam, becoming one of the youngest, if not the youngest, pros in the country to do so," notes the "North Reading Transcript."

"It's obvious that Carter, the golf pro at the Hillview Country Club, loves the game. One indication is that he speaks about it with enthusiasm and affection. Another sign is that he completed the rigorous PGA course in less than three years - half the allowed time.

"But that's not surprising for someone who grew up 'just up the street' from a golf course in Lynn and has been involved in the game 'practically my whole life.'

"He started playing golf when he was eight, and his father would take him to play a few holes just down the street. By the age of 10 he was playing in tournaments.

"Carter graduated from Bryant College in Rhode Island with a business degree in 1996 and entered into the PGA's Golf Professional Training Program right away. The program prepared Carter to professionally manage a golf course - everything including teaching the game, managing a golf facility, running a pro shop and generally how to handle everything on the business end.

"This is Carter's second year as the head professional at the Hillview. He is an employee of GFMI, the firm that manages the course for the town.

"'Different kinds of golf courses are run differently,' Carter explained. 'A municipal course is run differently from a private course and a resort course would be run differently from a private course in the suburbs....'

"During the season, Carter lives in North Reading. When the course closes from Christmas to March 15, he packs his bags and heads to Marco Island, Florida, where he works during the winter.

"'The people at the Hillview are great. It's a great facility in fine condition, especially for beginners. It's exciting getting others involved in the sport,' Carter said.

"Another nice thing from Carter's perspective is that because North Reading is a small town he gets to know the regulars as well as welcome newcomers.

"'They'll come up to me in the supermarket and start talking about their golf swings,' he laughed. 'Coming from a big city, I appreciate that. It's a nice feeling and a big part of the reason why I'm so comfortable here.'"

"About the Towns" covers recent events in the 10-town Middlesex East area. Because Middlesex East deadlines are early, please check the front sections of this paper for up-to-date information about your city or town.

Spot Pond

From S-1

Woods and goes across the south side of the Pond from Woodland Rd. to Route 28.

The new sidewalk will also continue along Pond Street in front of the Zoo.

When the boardwalk is completed on the western side of the Pond there will be a hiking trail that will be about 4.5 miles long.

"We will be competing with the trail around Lake Quannapowitt (three miles long in Wakefield)," Balfour said.

However, the big attraction is the boats and the fact that the Pond has been stocked with several thousand fish.

According to Balfour, the project has the blessing of the residents abutting the area as the result of many hours of meetings and public hearings with local groups and Conservation Commissions.

Some of the mitigations being given by the MDC include no boat ramps at Straw Point, an area of Spot Pond close to Pond Street and the Route I-93 on and off ramp. Another was the use of stone dust in the walkway behind the zoo.

"We want to make the area user friendly and still preserve it," Balfour said.

Only MDC boats can be used on the Pond and at present the boat ramp is located below the visitor center at the Bothume House, across from the former Boston Regional Medical Center.

The boat rental has been free this year and Balfour said, "If we can find a way to keep them free, we will."

Over the past two weekends, visitors to the area were surprised with the availability of some sailboats. This was an experiment being tried to see if they can be a permanent addition to the fleet for next year.

The Pond is still designated as an emergency reservoir, although Balfour said that the likelihood it will be used is very slim. However, for this reason no swimming is allowed.

If you are a person who likes to row a boat or canoe for recreational purposes instead of for fishing, Spot Pond has a lot to offer.

According to a history put together by the MDC, Spot Pond was first named by Governor John Winthrop in 1632 when the area was known as Charlestown End. It was a slightly populated area of the Massachusetts Bay Colony.

Governor Winthrop supposedly named the Pond because of the number of islands contained in the estimated 308 acres of water. The one acre Great Island has quite a history of its own.

It is the largest of the islands and during the 19th century it was a popular spot for illegal pugilistic matches. According to a history of the legends and lore of the area, "Boxing fans liked the islands location because its seclusion allowed them to enjoy this, then illegal, sport."

There is a granite marker on the island that commemorates one of these fights in which a pugilist named Shute (no further information is yet known) was felled and died as a result of a boxing match.

The history also notes that in 1865 the greatest bout took place on the island between Ned Price and Joe Coburn. The fight reportedly lasted 160 rounds and was called to a draw at sunset.

Tight security was provided for the fight by means of the promoters acquiring all of the boats in the area and bringing them out to the island so that no one, including local police, could reach the site.

Watchmen were also posted in the area and it is said that several policemen were tied to trees after being caught attempting to reach the island.

It is said that well-known boxer John L. Sullivan fought on Great Island on at least two occasions.

Because of the slowdown in the state budget this year, Balfour said that the improvements accomplished have been done out of the MDC's operational budget but he expects a $200,000 line item in the Fiscal Year 2000 state budget to complete the project and replenish the operational budget.

He noted that no master plan for the boats has yet been drawn up.

"We wanted to see how they worked," Balfour said.

The experiment seems to have worked out very well and plans are being made to replace the temporary floating dock with a permanent dock in the same location. The permanent dock will be handicapped accessible.

As part of the site preparations, underbrush and dead trees in the area of the Bothume House were cleared and an outdoor amphitheatre has been created along with a family picnic area.

Many events have been held in the area including a Tuesday night family movie weekly event that was open during the summer. It was so well attended that it will be continued next year.

According to Balfour, plans are underway to create a Friends of Spot Pond group much like those at Breakheart Reservation and the Virginia Woods. For more information call (781)662-5230. This number can also be used for information about the boats.

Plans are already underway to hold a Spot Pond Fishing Derby in the spring.

Those people wishing to use one of the boats must be 18-years of age and have a valid Massachusetts identification. The reservations are open from dawn to dusk.

Life preservers will be provided and must be worn at all times.

Those persons over 15 who will be fishing must possess a valid Massachusetts Fishing License.

Middlesex East Sports Athletes & Activities

BY PAUL FEELY

After heavy recruitment by many of the top basketball programs in the country, READING RESIDENT and Central Catholic star SCOTT HAZELTON will announce his collegiate plans at a press conference this week.

Hazelton, a 6-8 junior, has narrowed his choices to three Big East schools -- the University of Connecticut, Syracuse University and Villanova University.

Hazelton, 17, helped Central to a 22-3 record and a Merrimack Valley Conference title in 1999. He was instrumental in capturing the North Divisional championship, Eastern Mass. crown and ultimately the Div. 1 State Championship, defeating Holy Name High School of Worcester in the title game played at the Centrum last March.

The highlight of Hazelton's year was a 43-point night on the parquet at the FleetCenter in a tournament victory over Bridgewater-Raynham.

Hazelton garnered many accolades last year as a junior and looks forward to a very successful senior year both athletically and socially. Perhaps one of the most prestigious awards presented to Hazelton was the Award for Excellence which goes to the high school player of the year in Massachusetts, as named by the National Basketball Hall of Fame.

Some of Hazelton's other honors include: 1998-99 MVC Player of the Year, Boston Globe and Boston Herald All-Scholastic selections, Gatorade Massachusetts Player of the Year recipient, School Sports Magazine Player of the Year, and a USA Today 1998-99 Top 15 Juniors in the Country selection. He also maintained a B+ average as a junior and made the honor roll at Central during the basketball season.

Hazelton currently lives in Reading with Vin Pastore, his AAU coach and legal guardian.

SPORTS SHORTS

•MIDDLESEX EAST SPORTS WEEKLY TRIVIA QUESTION: In 1965, a National League pitcher hurled nine innings of no-hit ball and found himself locked in a scoreless duel at the end of nine. In fact, this happened to him twice that season. Who is this pitcher?

Answer appears elsewhere in this column.

•THE MASSACHUSETS WILCATS AAU 14 AND UNDER GIRLS BASKETBALL TEAM will hold tryouts on Saturday, Oct 2 from 1 p.m. to 3 p.m. and again on Sunday, Oct. 3 from 3 p.m to 5 p.m. at the Marshall Simonds Middle School, 114 Winn St. in Burlington. All girls whose birth date falls between Jan 1., 1985 and Dec. 31, 1985 are invited to come and tryout for new head coach Peter Scafidi. There is a $25 tryout fee which includes your AAU card for the upcoming season. For more info, contact coach Scafidi at (781) 893-4652.

•WINCHESTER'S ROCKY CARZO, a former Tufts University athletic director for 33 years, was recently chosen as a winner of the Eastern College Athletic Conference Distinguished Achie-vement Award. He will be honored at the ECAC fall convention awards banquet on October 4 at the Sheraton Hyannis Hotel on Cape Cod.

•Need some clues to help out with the above-mentioned trivia question? His first name is Jim.

•North Reading ace softball pitcher MICHELLE RIDINGS has given Merrimack College an early verbal commitment to play there. She led the Hornets to their first Division 3 title last year with a 22-4 record, a .35 earned run average and 12 shutouts.

•THE PETER MOSCARIELLO SCHOLARSHIP COMMITTEE is currently seeking donations to help finance an annual scholarship for a deserving RMHS baseball player. If you would like to contribute, please make out a check to Peter Moscariello Scholarship Account, Fleet Bank, o/o Vivian Craig, 580 Main St., Reading, MA 01867.

•ANSWER TO THIS WEEK'S TRIVIA QUESTION: The pitcher was Jim Maloney of the Reds. He lost one game, 1-0, to the Mets by giving up a home run to Johnny Lewis in extra innings, but beat the Cubs, 1-0, with a no-hitter. Congratulations to those that knew the answer, and look next week for another trivia question.

Time to Winterize

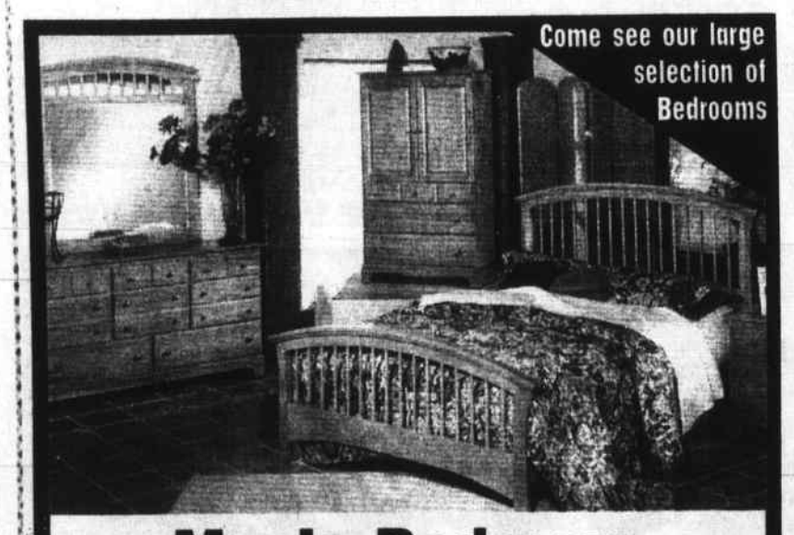

Before you say goodbye to the swimming season and prepare for the winter, make sure you know a few easy tips for winterizing your pool. That way, when you open it next year, you'll find a pool ready to enjoy.

But before the cover goes on, make sure the water is properly balanced to prevent damage to your pool surface from metals and scale. As the temperature drops, water becomes more corrosive, requiring more calcium hardness. Chlorine demand increases, too. Without following correct procedures, the crystal-clear pool you remembered closing will be only a memory when you return.

Your BioGuard® Authorized Dealer can perform a free computerized water analysis and recommend the most effective products from the BioGuard Winter Care Program to ensure your pool opening next season is as easy as possible.

SCHOOL OF BALLET NUTCRACKER AUDITIONS

The North Reading School of Ballet will host auditions for children to participate in the Albany Berkshire Ballet's annual production of The Nutcracker on Sunday, October 3. The auditions will be held at North Reading School of Ballet's Studio at 52 Main Street, North Reading.

No particular dance school affiliation is required. These auditions are for 2 performances at the Collins Center for Performing Arts in Andover, MA on Saturday, December 4th.

Children of appropriate height and ability are needed to dance the roles of reindeer, clowns, angels, party children, soldiers, and mice. The auditions will commence at 10 am for children ages 6 to 8. Children 9 to 11 will follow at 11 am, and finally children 12 and over will begin at 1 pm. Children should wear standard dance attire (leotard, tights and ballet slippers) to the audition. Dancers on pointe should bring their pointe shoes.

For more information, call the North Reading School of Ballet at 978-664-5226.

BREASTFEEDING TOPIC OF LA LECHE

Many options are open to parents today in the family centered maternity care programs in our hospitals. How will the arrival of your new baby affect your relationship as a couple and as a family? These topics will be explored on Wednesday, October 6th at 10:15 am when La Leche League of Reading meets to discuss "The Baby and the Breastfed Family" at the Reading Public Library (upstairs meeting room), 64 Middlesex Avenue, Reading. Women from surrounding towns are welcome.

This meeting is the second in the current series of four monthly meetings open to nursing mothers and their babies, as well as pregnant and other interested women. The discussion is informal, with opportunity to ask questions and share experiences. The group maintains a lending library of books on breastfeeding, childbirth, and childcare. La Leche League leaders may be called at any time for immediate help, encouragement, and practical suggestions regarding breastfeeding, or to obtain the manual, The Womanly Art of Breastfeeding.

For directions, further information, or encouragement, please call one of the group leaders: Carmen 781-944-0377, Karen 978-657-8301 or Sharon 978-694-1012.

Home decorating store helpful

Some people love to shop until they drop and others prefer to visit a store for the briefest time possible. What works for both types of shopper, according to Nancy Pittenger from Melrose Paint & Decorating Center, Inc., is a sensitive and knowledgeable sales staff combined with flexible retail fixturing.

Decorating stores like Melrose Paint have the advantage of the Interior Solutions boutique-within-a-store, where people can research for hours or find just what they need in minutes - whatever works. Here are Gramercy, Waverly and Village wallpapers and home fashion that are unwrapped and displayed in such a way that shoppers can see and touch, mix and match - even cut a sample. Along with wallpaper and borders, window treatments, decorative pillows and tabletop accessories are equally accessible to the person who prefers to choose decorative elements by themselves or who welcomes trained sales help.

FSC Wallcoverings has just selected Melrose Paint to join the company of 130 stores throughout the U.S. to add an Interior Solutions Boutique. "We find that this interactive system helps customers save time. The ambiance and accessibility to samples and product make it easier for people to envision what they are choosing for their homes," says Pittenger.

"To help confirm that you'll like a pattern and color in large stretches, you can unroll as big a piece of Waverly, Gramercy or Village wallpaper or border as you like from the Interior Solutions fixturing. Run your hands over the paper, cotton or linen to feel the quality, which is as important as appreciating the visual impact," she says.

"Rather than depending on images on packaging, the pillows, chair pads, napkins and place mats are all here - as are valances, installed on the fixture as they will look at home. You'll need absolutely no imagination to visualize the effect of your selections in your breakfast room, kitchen, bedroom, entrance hall or family room" says the Wakefield based retailer.

Charming Waverly classics and sophisticated Gramercy collections are displayed by style and color to help you see what you like immediately. So are value-priced Village wallpapers and borders designed especially to enhance kitchens, baths and children's rooms.

For more information, call 781-245-0444 or visit Melrose Paint & Decorating Center at 910 Main Street, Wakefield.

Babysitting basics and more

Finding a qualified babysitter can be a challenging and uncertain process. Every parent wants to be certain that the young person looking after their children has instruction to deal with potential problems.

To alleviate these concerns, Hallmark Health will be offering Baby Sitting Basics and Beyond, a course designed to provide aspiring babysitters with the necessary skills to safely care for younger children. Classes meet Saturdays, October 2, 9 and 16, from 9 am to 3:30 pm at the Reading YMCA.

Students will learn a number of valuable babysitting techniques, including how to calm a fussy child, home safety and choke saving-skills, negotiating a salary for themselves, and keeping themselves safe. Participants must be at least 11 years old and have completed the sixth grade.

In order to receive a course completion card, students must attend all three training sessions. Due to safety considerations, Hallmark Health does not provide information on course participants to the public.

Registration is required and space is limited. For more information or to register call the Reading YMCA at 781-944-9622.

Partnership works in Woburn

"Thanks to the Social Security Administration (SSA) and the Greater Boston Federal Executive Board (GBFEB), students at the Kennedy Middle School in Woburn began the school year with a lot more computing power than they had when they left for summer vacation," notes the Woburn edition of the "Daily Times Chronicle."

"In a ceremony at the school, Social Security's Regional Commissioner Manuel J. Vaz presented Carl Batchelder with the first of 20 computers that he would soon receive for use throughout the school.

"This was the third local donation of the Social Security Administration's 'Computers for Kids' program.

"Under this nationwide initiative, SSA is committed to donating 10,000 surplus computers, and related pieces of equipment, to public schools over a three year period.

"In making the presentation, Vaz noted the agency's frequently overlooked efforts in helping children. 'Most people don't realize that more than 3 million kids currently receive a Social Security check each month,' Vaz said. 'And now, through the 'Computers for Kids' program, we in SSA are able to expand the scope of our service and help school-age children in a whole new way.'

"The Kennedy Middle School and the Social Security Administration were brought together under the Greater Boston Federal Executive Board's Computer Donation Program, a working partnership between the GBFEB and local schools and organizations in need of computer technology.

"To date GBFEB efforts have resulted in nearly $4M worth of computer equipment being sent to more than 250 schools and nonprofit organizations in New England."

Find time to quit smoking

Want to quit smoking but don't think you have the time to commit to a structured program? Winchester Hospital's Community Health Institute helps you find the time to quit with a three-week program designed to give you the support and motivation you need to kick the habit for good.

The course is held Tuesday and Thursday evenings beginning October 19 and ending November 4 from 6 to 7:30 pm at Baldwin Park I, Suite 207, 12 Alfred Street, Woburn. Pre-registration is required, please call 781-756-4700.

Teacher triumphs in Reading

"Lorraine Jordan, a sixth grade teacher at Parker Middle School recently completed a 10 day honors workshop for elementary school teachers at the NASA Langley Research Center in Hampton, VA., sponsored by NASA and the National Science Teachers Association," notes the Reading edition of the "Daily Times Chronicle."

"Mrs. Jordan successfully competed with hundreds of other educators for one of 25 spots in the NASA Educational Workshop (NEW K-6) at NASA Langley. Nearly 250 other educators attended similar workshops at one of ten other agency centers across the nation.

"'The excitement of space exploration motivates my students to learn about science concepts. My participation in the NEW K-6 workshop will enable me to expand upon my student's hands-on experience in the classroom.'

"The NEW K-6 program was designed in the wake of a national study that indicates if students have not developed an interest in math or science by the third grade, their chances of doing so decrease over time. NEW K-6 was created to encourage students' enthusiasm for math and science by engaging their teachers in an exciting program that can be easily transferred across the elementary curriculum.

"The NEW K-6 program is a unique combination of scientific and technological information and hands-on experience. During the two weeks the teachers learned about cutting-edge NASA projects, visited NASA facilities, attended seminars by NASA researchers, engineers and technicians, and studied topics ranging from aeronautics to interplanetary exploration...."

Money matters in Wakefield

"It was announced at a Northeast Metropolitan Regional Vocational School Committee meeting that Reading representative Robert McCarthy, will be chairing a new budgetary committee," notes the Reading edition of the "Daily Times Chronicle."

"The decision to create a subcommittee to oversee the school's budget, comes in the wake of the board's vote last year to change their program to a line item budget. It will be the responsibility of the new committee, which will consist of a committee-of-the-whole, to review the process of how the funds are spent annually.

"'We will now have the opportunity to look at the process,' said McCarthy. 'Our first goal will be to track the revenue stream versus the expenditures. I would like to start early, in October, and get the budget out by December - January 1, and start dialogue to get it passed before the April deadline.'

"'I'm looking forward to it (chairmanship), it's a good challenge and an opportunity to make a difference.'

"McCarthy said he wanted to involve all of the board members on the subcommittee because each member had 'legitimate input.'

"'I want everyone to feel comfortable with the process,' he said, noting that those representatives unable to attend budget meetings can submit their concerns in writing to the superintendent or himself.

"The current MetroTech budget for Fiscal Year 2000, has yet to be certified by the communities of Wakefield, Revere and Saugus. Out of the 12 communities represented at the school, nine have yes vote certification.

"Both the Revere representative, Ronald Jannino, and the Saugus board member, Peter Rossetti, Jr., expressed the need to present their town officials with documentation from the Department of Education regarding the certified assessments to each community. Both communities were proposing figures below the foundation level...."

ANTHONY MANCONI

quips and puns at the Woburn Elks recently and I heard only one person who applauded. I went over to him and thanked him. It was Jimmy Quinno who said to me, " I wasn't applauding you Chipper, I was trying to get the darn KETCHUP to come out of the bottle!"

I remember when Uncle John Shea came home and told Aunt Nora, "I don't know about Father John Crispo, every time I go to church the altar is full of either, Poinsettias or Lilies."

Folks, there may be hundreds of languages in this world of ours, BUT everyone smiles in the the same LANGUAGE.

Will Rogers said, "I would rather be the man who BOUGHT the Brooklyn Bridge than the one who sold it to me."

I recently read that a woman had her third husband cremated. Folks, life is sometimes unfair. Some woman can't get one husband and here's a woman who had husbands to burn.

After locking up, Mickey Reardon went home. He received a call from Blackie Vega at five in the morning asking him to come down and unlock the tavern door "For crying out loud, "Mickey exclaimed, "can't you wait till noon time for a drink?" I don't want a drink, you locked me in at 2 in the morning."

A vacuum cleaner salesman rang Paul Rao's doorbell then said to him, I'm selling vacuum cleaners and I know you need one." "How the heck do you know that?" Paul asked. "Well, the Chipper next door told me that he has been borrowing your vacuum and it's about time that YOU bought a NEW ONE!"

Dennis Tully asked his mother Fran, "Do men with whiskers ever go to Heaven?" "Yes they do," Fran Tully said, "but only by a CLOSE SHAVE!"

PERSONALITY WINNERS, Veronica McManus, Joe Lavaccia, Mike O'Brien, Christine O'Donnell and Catherine Shaugnessy all of WOBURN.

Kenny and Elaine Binding, Richie Hamel, Emir Galevi, Robert Brennan and Jim DiVovo all of WINCHESTER.

Glenn Stokken, Jason Fico, Adam Porter, Brian Zahora and Al Pymm all of BURLINGTON.

Jesse Woods, John and Eileen Woods, Ann Hardy, Debbie and Dave Polcari, Dave and Lucille Kaloyanides all of READING.

Matt Cali, Chris Curran, Dan Custance, Tony and Lenny Cavalieri and Lucy Sweeney all of WAKEFIELD.

Beverly Nigro, Ann Nolan, Hugh Williams, Beverly Ranese, Melissa Murphy all of STONEHAM.

Daniel Bento, Kenneth Bourinot, Christine Dearing, Millan Desai, Jamie Forgett all of WILMINGTON, Maria Barbosa, Mike Blute, Joyce Cadena, John Caramanie and Tracy Danner all of TEWKSBURY.

Jaclyn Bliss, Eric Ingals, Martha Emerson, Muriel Badger and Chris Rovelle all of LYNNFIELD.

Hazel Aims, Stacy Lombardo, Audrey Nicholson, Rebecca Mulry and Julie A. Mette all of NORTH READING.

DREAMBOATS Marybeth Connors of WOBURN, Kathleen Cormall and Vanessa Ruff of STONEHAM, Nicole Higden of BURLINGTON, Leah and Lori Mazzoni of WILMINGTON.

SUPERSTARS Jim Fitzgerald of WINCHESTER, Coach Bob Almeida of WILMINGTON, Coach Pete Moscariello of READING, Michelle Wilkinson of NORTH READING, Ignatius Catalso of LYNNFIELD and Cosmo Ciccarello of STONEHAM.

Folks, if you truly like what you are doing, you will never have to work another day in your life and if you get PAID for what you like to do, thank God. I do that after every column I write.

The French call it, "Joi de Vivre." the Italians, "La Dolci Vita. The Americans say, "Cool man Cool." But no one has the sensitivity of the Irish like Tony Stack who said to a beautiful colleen, "Come into my garden dear, I want my roses to see you."

Good news Blackie Vega, Frank Hogan and Johnny Ave made the "Centerfold" of the "Hobo News."

The hotel clerk told Blackie Vega, "there are only two rooms available, one with a tub and the other a shower." "What's the difference?" Blackie asked. "With the shower," the clerk replied, "you have to STAND UP!"

I asked Frank Hudson, "what was Father Dennis' sermon about this morning?" Frank replied, "Sin," "what did he say about it?" Frank said, "He's against it."

The apprentice barber nicked George Guyette's face more than a couple of times. "Shall I wrap your head with a towel sir?" "Yes, please do," George replied, "and I'll carry it home under my arm."

Many people are sensitive about their weight. Kathy doesn't want anyone to know how much she weighs. She wants to remain ENORMOUS.

My aunt Nora called Kathy up and said, "We must plan another trip to New York some week-end, I'm running out of hotel towels. The last time they went to New York, Kathy got pinched in the Astor Bar.

Everyone told my cousin Mario that it couldn't be done. He tried it and proved them right.

October's Adopt-a-Pet Month

October is observed as Adopt-a-Dog month at the Animal Rescue League of Boston and other animal shelters across the nation in an annual effort to draw attention to the plight of millions of homeless puppies and older dogs.

Anyone wishing to adopt a dog will find the widest selection of attractive and appealing animals during the fall months. Most female dogs come into heat during spring and the litters of puppies born two months later are ready to be weaned and adopted by the fall.

For families with very young children, or older people who may lack the energy to cope with the play, exercise and discipline needs of a very young puppy, an older dog may be a better choice for adoption. Many older dogs who are already well trained and accustomed to human companionship, turn up at shelters when their previous owners are forced to surrender them because of moving, or an illness in the family.

The League has adoption centers in Boston, Dedham, Salem and Brewster. For further information and adoption hours, please call 781-461-8015.

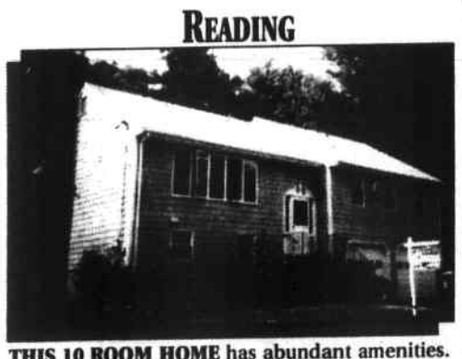

ALISSA AND "CLAY" enjoy each other's company during Adopt-A-Dog month.

— Tips from the Pros —

Leslie Bailey
Realtor/Colonial Manor Realty

When selling your home, is it really that important to use a "For Sale" sign? Absolutely! If your home is situated on a busy street, a sign will make many passersby aware that your house is for sale. And, if that buyer likes the look of your property and does not mind a busy street, you are two-thirds of your way to a sale. Now they only have to see the inside. On a quiet street, a sign is also a valuable marketing tool. Many potential buyers ride around neighborhoods they like, eagerly scouting for "For Sale" signs. Without one, you may be eliminating your perfect buyer.

Which of These Costly Homeseller Mistakes Will You Make When You Sell Your Home?

A new report has just been released which reveals 7 costly mistakes that most homeowners make when selling their home, and a 9 Step System that can help you sell your home fast and for the most amount of money.

This industry report shows clearly how the traditional ways of selling homes have become increasingly less and less effective in today's market. The fact of the matter is that fully three quarters of homesellers don't get what they want for their home and become disillusioned and worse - financially disadvantaged when they put their home on the market.

As this report uncovers, most homesellers make 7 deadly mistakes that cost them literally thousands of dollars. The good news is that each and every one of these mistakes is entirely preventable.

In answer to this issue, industry insiders have prepared a free special report entitled "The 9 Step System to get Your Home Sold Fast and For Top Dollar."

To hear a brief recorded message about how to order your free copy of this report call 1-800-817-7745 and enter ID #7012. You can call anytime, 24 hours a day, 7 days a week.

Call NOW to find out how you can get the most money for your home.

This Week... North Reading

A quiet place in the country

North Reading home exudes rural appeal with an easy commute.

Just 16 miles from downtown Boston and steps from the Hillview Country Club, Ipswich River Park and town centre, there is a spacious, recently refurbished New England colonial with features found in far more expensive homes.

A hallway leads to a wonderful living room with built-in shelves and an expansive view of the beautiful back yard and large custom deck.

Adjacent, the spacious oak kitchen is sun-filled and has all the conveniences for a modern chef. A truly spacious dining room is located on the first floor as well as a full bath.

Upstairs, the three bedrooms lend themselves to space and privacy. Throughout the home, hardwood flooring, plenty of closet space and other quality touches are found.

The best asset of this North Reading home is its location. An exceptional school system, ease of commute and a rural atmosphere so close to Boston, can all be yours.

This property, at 88 North St., North Reading, is offered by John Nelson of Private Properties for $249,900. He may be contacted at 978-664-0707.

THE SPACIOUS MODERN OAK KITCHEN is sun-filled and a great place to cook a meal in.

This great colonial has a charming dining room and a beautiful back yard.

FOOTBALL

Injuries fail to stop Wildcats

By JAMIE POTE
Sports Editor

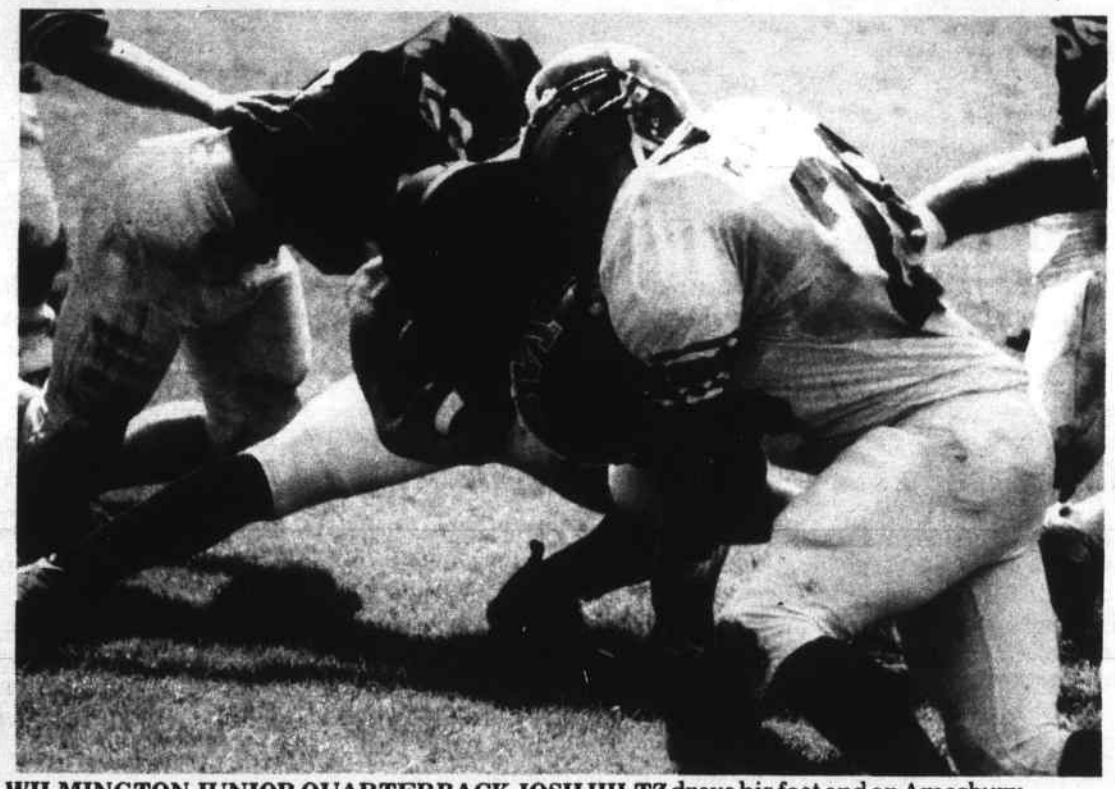

For the first 8:11 of Saturday's game against Amesbury, the Wilmington High football team looked as if they were playing for the Super Bowl.

Both of their first two offensive series were graceful, superb in every fashion on nearly every play. Their offensive line was doing a terrific job, while their one defensive series was also nearly perfect as Amesbury went three-and-out, limited to just 6 yards.

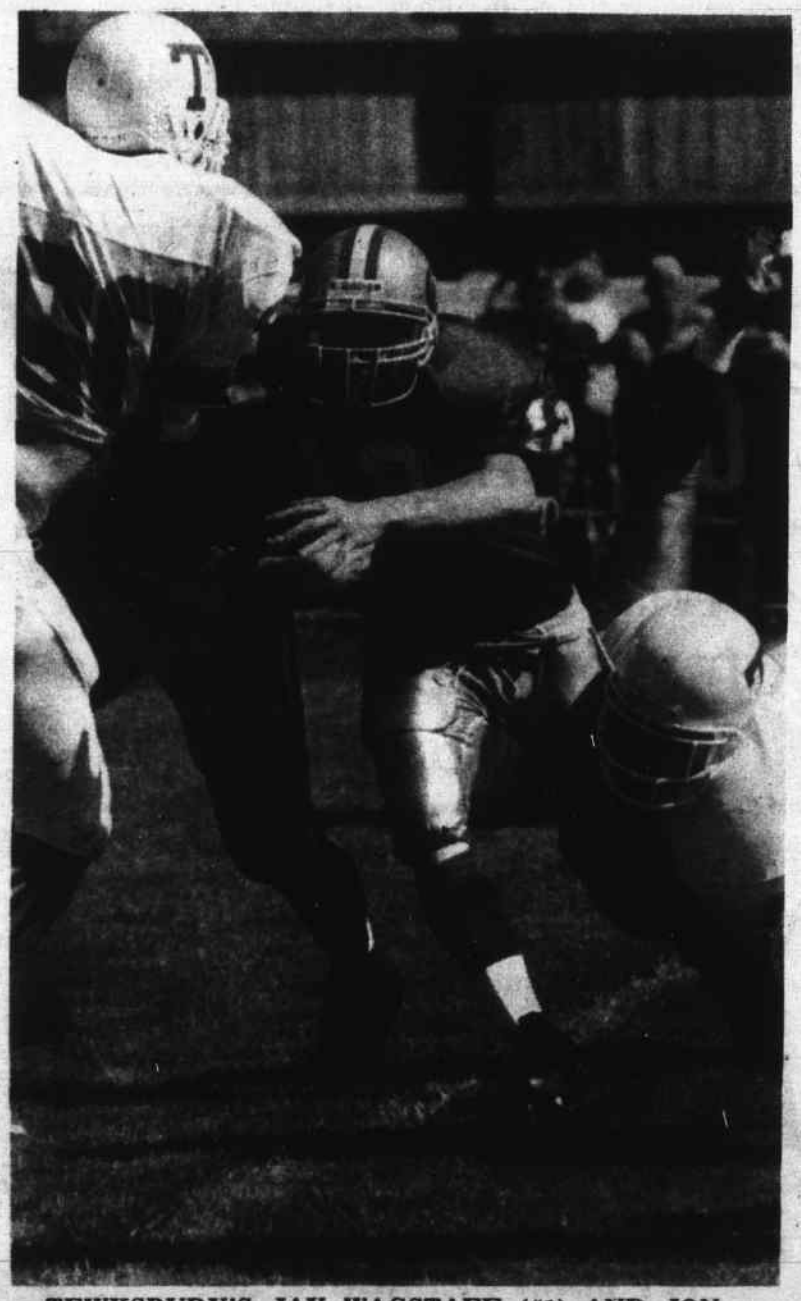

But then several nagging injuries occurred and Wilmington's trainer Bill Martin was kept busy for the rest of the day. That, along with Amesbury making several big adjustments on how to stop the Cats powerful offense, had the rest of the game even. That, however, was enough for the Wildcats to win their third straight game, the season home openerat Alumni Field. This one, 21-6, was against the Fighting Indians

"It seemed like every single play someone was coming off the field banged up," said head coach Bob Almeida. "We couldn't do anything that we wanted to. This was a game that we had to gut

Redmen flatten the Hillies, 35 - 8

By JEFF NAZZARO
Sports Correspondent

After two games, one thing is clear for the Tewksbury team in the grand scheme of EMass football: they're somewhere between Everett, the powerhouse they bowed to 35-21 in their opener, and Haverhill, the doghouse they walked through last Friday, 35-8.

But for the now 1-1 Tewksbury team and its coaches, firmly ensconced in classic one-game-at-a-time mode, only one other squad really matters as they claw their way back from last year's 2-8 finish.

"The only thing we're worried about right now is how do we stack up to Lowell, because they're next," said Redmen head man Brian Aylward after his team had its way on the Hillies turf.

So how do they stack up to Lowell, the team that visits this Saturday for Tewksbury's home opener? Pretty favorably, provided they can stop a certain player.

"Any team that's got Raunny Rosario has to scare the hell out of you," said Aylward. "He's a great running back."

Rosario and Lowell put a scare into two-time defending champ Central Catholic earlier but the stud back doesn't have much in the way of supporting cast members.

Tewksbury, meanwhile, has benefited greatly from improved depth over a year ago. With senior tailback Erik Hamilton out with an ankle injury, the Red running game didn't miss a beat at Haverhill. Junior fullback Ryan Carlson dropped back to the tail spot while junior Erik Nickerson took over as the starting fullback. The two combined for 110 yards and touchdown on the ground.

"We tried not to make too much of it," Aylward said of the injury. "We talked about basic execution in the running and passing game."

But it was the aerial combo of senior quarterback Tommy Sullivan and junior split end Jay Wagstaff that torched the Hillies for touchdowns of 47 and 59 yards on successive series and put this game in the bag by the end of the second quarter. Sullivan finished the half a dazzling three-of-five passing for 109 yards and the two TDs. Wagstaff emerged wide open on both touchdown tosses and Sully delivered the ball right on target and in stride for easy scores.

Tewksbury started early, taking the opening kick and marching 69 yards down the field on eight running plays to lead 6-0 with 5:48 to play in the first quarter.

"Our big goal was to come in and execute right out of the gate and I thought we did a great job of that," Aylward said.

Nickerson ripped off 31 yards on the drive, including an inside trap for 16 on the second play of the game. Haverhill was also tagged with a

McKanas too much for the Rams

By Michael Liuzza

Although the sun finally decided to make an appearance at game time, a dark cloud seemed to linger over Shawsheen Tech for most of the day.

Northeast Regional's senior running back John McKanas was that cloud, rushing for 290 yards on 26 carries and scoring five touchdowns as the Golden Knights defeated the Purple Rams, 34-12, at Northeast Regional High in Wakefield on Saturday morning.

"McKanas did a good job today," said Rams head coach Al Costabile. "They just kept giving him the ball, and it seemed to get easier and easier for him to run. Their coaching staff had them well prepared."

It was a rough first half for the Rams, as McKanas was all over the field, racking up huge yardage and finding the end zone four times. The Rams could not get their offense going, as they managed to get inside Northeast's 10 yard line twice, but failed to score. At the end of the half, the Knights led, 26-0.

"We shot ourselves in the foot today," said Costabile, who's team fell to 1-1 on the season. "I'm very disappointed in our special teams. There were breakdowns in our punt coverage, and just too many uncharacteristic plays in general. We have a lot of work to do this week."

Although the first half was all Northeast, Shawsheen began to put things together in the second half.

Ram's quarterback Mike Stubbs led his team up the field to start the third quarter. The drive was highlighted by a nice pass from Stubbs to receiver James Fallica for a 25-yard gain that made it first and goal. With 3:39 left to play in the quarter, running back Steve Winchester took the hand-off from Stubbs and rumbled three yards into the end zone to put the Rams on the board.

"Fallica did a great job in the second half," said Costabile. "We finally found our passing game."

On the ensuing drive, the Rams put fourth their best defensive stand of the day, holding the Knights and McKanas in check. Northeast was forced to punt, and Shawsheen took over at the Knights 43 yard line.

But on the second play of the fourth quarter, Shawsheen fumbled and the Knights' Mike Vega recovered. Three plays later, McKanas was at it again, as he took the pitch on a sweep to the left side and dashed 30 yards for his fifth and final touchdown of the day.

Once again, the Rams put together a nice drive, as Fallica continued to shine, catching two passes for a total of 49 yards. But perhaps the best play of the series came from Shawsheen lineman Tony Colella. While Stubbs was scrambling for some daylight, Colella came out of nowhere and absolutely blasted a Knights defender, allowing Stubbs to gain some yardage.

But Northeast again stopped the Rams and took over possession. On their third play, Knights quarterback Scott Gill was sacked by Tewksbury's Chris McCarthy for a seven yard loss, making it third and a long 23.

On the very next play, Gill dropped back to pass, only to find himself pursued by several Ram defenders. In a desperate move, he attempted to pass, but the ball was deflected and picked off by Saul Santana at the Knights 24-yard line. Santana returned it for the easy touchdown.

Northeast took over with 2:37 remaining in the game, and proceeded to run the clock out. When it was over, the Knights had their first victory of the year, winning 34-12.

"The kids have to pick up the pieces," said Costabile. "We need to be focused on every play. If we don't get down quickly, we can win football games."

Next week the Rams travel to Lynn to face the St. Mary's Spartans under the lights at the Manning Bowl beginning at 7 pm. The Spartans have a good passing attack and run a stack offense similar to Shawsheen's.

out, and the kids played with a lot of courage today. And I'm very proud of them."

Wilmington opened the game with the ball on its own 35 after an 18-yard kick-off return by Mark Jepson. In the first play from scrimmage quarterback Josh Hiltz hit Matt Minghella with a screen pass, and the speedy tri-captain gained 32 yards on the play, with great help on a nice block from Nick Allen. After several small gains, a few penalties and a recovered fumble, Wilmington had the ball on the Amesbury 15 on second-and-five. That's when Hiltz took the ball to his right on a keeper play where he was tackled at the 2 yard line after a beautiful run. The next play Hiltz finished it with another keeper play into the end zone and Wilmington led 7-0 with Jepson's PAT good.

Amesbury went three-and-out and Wilmington took over on their own 31 after Jim Fennelly recovered a muffed fair catch from Sean Quigley. Senior Eric Banda took the first carry for 29 yards on a nice hole to his left. After two rushing plays the team had lost six yards. Hiltz fired a bullet to his left to Quigley who caught the pass at the 28, turned and ran down to the Amesbury 15 before being tackled. Two plays later, Hiltz and Quigley were at it again on a perfect execution play. Hiltz rolled out to his left, and fired a spiral to Quigs who did a masterful job of keeping both feet inbounds for the 12-yard touchdown pass. Wilmington for some strange reason went for the two-point conversion, after Jepson nailed the PAT earlier. The rush by Banda failed. Wilmington led 13-0 with 1:49 to go in the first quarter.

Amesbury moved the ball and the chains considerably on its next drive that carried into the second quarter. Amesbury's quarterback Dan Blancarte got a first down moving the ball 14 yards on two keeper plays, and two plays later he completed a 45-yard pass to move the ball to the W20. Amesbury could only get four yards on the next three plays and faced with a fourth-and-six at the W16, another pass attempt by Blancarte was incomplete and Wilmington took over on downs.

Wilmington went three-and-out and punted to the Amesbury 45. Amesbury would then chew up over 5 minutes off the clock, and eventually put 6 points on the scoreboard 10 plays later as Blancarte went in from the 1 on a keeper play. The PAT kick failed and with 2:30 to go in the first half the 'Cats led only by a touchdown.

Things then got worse for Wilmington. Again going three-and-out, Wilmington's Andy Campbell went back to punt. But his punt was blocked and Amesbury grabbed the ball and went in for what looked like a huge touchdown. But a clipping penalty was called on a not-so bright hit on Wilmington back at the 27 yard line brought the ball back as the touchdown was called back.

Now with 14 seconds to go in the half and the ball on the W27, Amesbury was looking to capitalize on its big blunder. On first down they were charged with a five yard penalty to move the ball back to the 32. That's when Wilmington's pass rush defense came through. Ryan Moroney broke through and sacked Blancarte for an 8 yard loss, and Campbell followed it up with virtually the same play and the half ended with Wilmington up 13-6, when the score could have easily have been tied up.

As Wilmington went in for its halftime break, they were without Minghella who injured his shoulder, and Hiltz who did the same (but he did come back after sitting out one offensive series). They came out from the break and really struggled offensively, but playing very sound defense. In the second half Wilmington managed just 67 total offensive yards, but also committed three fumbles, two that they recovered, and had a big ten yard holding penalty. In the first half, Wilmington totaled 123 total yards, including Hiltz completing his first three passes for 78 yards.

Both teams exchanged punts to start the third quarter off. Amesbury, with 4:05 to go in the third quarter, started to move the ball a little getting one first down on their next drive. But on fourth down at the W42, they elected to punt, but the punter bobbled the snap and Campbell got in to make the tackle for a 12-yard loss. The punter would get a 15-yard penalty for losing his temper on the play and Wilmington had the ball on the Amesbury 29. Three rushes by Banda and two incomplete passes had Wilmington giving the ball back on downs.

Now with 8:25 to go in the game, Amesbury would go three-and-out for the fourth time in the game. Wilmington had the ball at the A49, and Banda got things going with a 6 yard lug. Wilmington moved the ball forward and backwards over the next seven plays getting one first down. Now with a fourth-and-14 situation at the A31, Wilmington elected to go for it ahead by a touchdown with 2:42 to go. Pouch kick? Punt? Andy Campbell, the team's punter, had lofted one punt for 22 yards before the last one was blocked. So that thought was thrown out the window. Instead, Wilmington fumbled on the play and Amesbury took over on possession and downs.

On the first play from scrimmage, Blancarte a 6'0, 220-pound quarterback tried to sneak a quick pass over the top, but Banda intercepted it and raced down to the 16 yard line. Three plays later he finished it off with a 1 yard touchdown, his sixth of the season so far. Hiltz rushed in for the two-point conversion on a beautiful fake hand-off to up the lead to 21-6. Amesbury would run the kick-off back to the Wilmington 23, only to throw three incomplete passes, while Jeff Coughlin sacked Blancarte on third down for a 10 yard loss, and the game was over.

"I give credit to them," said Almeida. "They knew what we were going to do and they did a nice job of taking that away from us. They stopped our best plays. I thought we played a good game especially since we were so banged up in the game and we played without our starting tight end (Josh Howlett) and our starting defensive tackle (Joe Cotto)."

Wilmington remains at home this Saturday with kick-off slated for 1:30 against Triton Regional. Triton is winless i three tries and have only scored one touchdown this season. The game was originally scheduled to be a 10:30 am game at Triton Regional, however, all of their athletic fields are being redone as every single one of their fall programs are playing all away games. The following week Wilmington will end its three home games in a row with a 2:00 game against Pentucket, a pretty good offensive team who beat Wilmington down by two touchdowns in the fourth quarter last year.

Cats defense big when it counts

By JEFF NAZZARO
Sports Correspondent

The way this game started - two Wilmington possessions, two Wilmington touchdowns - it didn't seem as if the Wildcat first string defense would be anywhere near the action by the time the fourth quarter rolled around. But there they were, battling the never-say-die Amesbury Indians right up until senior defensive end Jeff Coughlin wrapped up quarterback Dan Blancarte for a 10-yard sack that effectively iced the contest.

That was one of three timely takedowns of the determined Amesbury field general for a Wilmington defense that rose to the occasion with big plays when it needed them most.

"We stepped it up on defense," said the other starting defensive end, senior Andy Campbell, whose sack of Blancarte ended the first half with Wilmington leading 13-6.

The 'Cats were lucky to still be ahead at the break. Amesbury was still in the game to the end in part because they never gave up, but mostly because of Blancarte.

"He worked hard and we had a lot of respect for him coming in," said Wilmington coach Bob Almeida of Blancarte. "We seem to be coming up with those big plays every game. Today we had to gut it out and our kids showed a lot of courage and I'm proud of them. I thought Campbell and Coughlin came up with huge plays."

The 6'1", 220-pound quarterback took it to the Wilmington defense all afternoon. He was as big as the numbers make him sound and he could run on top of it. He had an arm but no one who seemed to be able to catch the ball. He got little in the way of pass protection, but he was mobile, especially for his size, and he hit the corner on the sweeps he ran like a runaway truck. He fought valiantly for every inch of turf but a one-man-gang will almost always in the end succumb to a team effort, and that's what happened in this game.

"He was a big strong kid so we had to get everybody on him," said Coughlin. "He wasn't going down with just one kid."

Occasionally he did, as when another senior down lineman, Ryan Moroney, who was used at tackle in certain situations, burst through the Amesbury offensive line, grabbed Blancarte by the shirt around his shoulder pads, and flung him to the ground for an 8-yard loss. That sack came right before Campbell's, and together they preserved a Wilmington lead that only still existed because of a little luck.

"As long as we won the game that's all that matters," Moroney said.

Amesbury blocked a Wilmington punt with a spectacular effort, grabbed the free pigskin and trotted it into the end zone for what looked to be the equalizing touchdown. But one of those away-from-the-play, mind-boggling clips brought it back and Amesbury had to try put the ball in with its offense.

A procedure penalty put the Indians at first-and-fifteen from the Wildcat 32 when Blancarte dropped back to pass. Moroney didn't let him get one off.

"I went right through the guard and the tackle and the kid was right there," described Moroney.

After Moroney's sack, it was Campbell's turn.

"I saw him rolling out so I cut him off," he said. "I knew he was a fast kid so I took my angle and wrapped him up."

Campbell also turned in another big tackle for a loss of yards late in the third quarter with Wilmington still clinging to a 13-6 lead and Amesbury facing a fourth-and-seven from the Wildcat 42. The punter tried to run the ball after he muffed the snap but Campbell corralled him for a 12-yard loss that helped swing the battle of field position into Wilmington's favor.

But this game was ultimately broken open by the player who does that for Wilmington more than any other - Eric Banda. Number 44 intercepted a Blancarte pass then, turning to offense, ran the ball in to run the score to 21-6 and give Wilmington the breathing room they needed.

"Banda's probably our best player," assessed Coughlin. Good players make big plays and he did it right there."

Amesbury came back for more but Wilmington had the answer and one more big play. Needing two scores they came knocking on the Wilmington door, setting up for a third-and-ten at the Wildcat 23.

Blancarte looked to pass. Coughlin's job was to contain the outside, which he did, then came up against an Indian running back trying to block him. He beat him, then zeroed in on the quarterback.

"He was probably the best quarterback we're going to see all year," Coughlin said. "As soon as I saw him jump I tried to get on him and not let him go."

It was the last big play the gritty Wildcat defense would need in this game as Campbell, Coughlin and Co. held on and won again.

Boudreau scores two despite old injury

By JAMIE POTE
Sports Editor

Three months ago, Mark "Bo" Boudreau was the Tewksbury Senior All-Star baseball team's scorer, sitting on the bleachers watching his friends and teammates play during the hot summer days. He had always been on that team, but couldn't play because of a stress fracture he had in his back. Wearing this big back brace, Boudreau said at the time that doctors told him that he would probably be able to put on the football pads again sometime during this fall season for Tewksbury High.

Friday night was just an ordinary day on the field for Boudreau. He hasn't missed a game or practice, he's gone full tilt in the physical aspect of it since day one. In game number two for the Redmen and Boudreau, who is a defensive back/running back/PAT kicker, and all he did was score two touchdowns to help Tewksbury win conventionally over Haverhill, 35-8.

It was the first win for Tewksbury this season, and the first two touchdowns scored in Boudreau's varsity career.

"It's great," said Boudreau about never missing a beat and scoring for his first time. "They said I had a stress fracture in my back because of over activity and that I would be able to play again but weren't sure when. Once the beginning of the season came, I felt fine and they said it was OK for me to do contact - i jumped in and felt pain for one day but it had nothing to do with my injury, it was just a pulled muscle. Now I feel great."

Head coach Brian Aylward was like mostly everyone else, in complete amazement of how quickly this kid was able to put the Red and White uniform back on for good.

"It's crazy," he said. "The kid had a broken back for 5 months and now he's starting for us - I think that says everything about the kid right there."

Boudreau sat out most of the baseball season with the injury he suffered about 5 games into it. That carried over until the beginning of this month when the doctors said his fracture was completely healed and he was ready to go at it again. And that he did and then some.

Tewksbury led 6-0 just one play into the second quarter. On fourth down, Haverhill punted from its own 26 yard line. Boudreau planted under it at the Tewksbury 40 yard line, only to have it go through his arms and back three yards. But, keeping his poise, Boudreau picked it up and darted to the left sidelines going barely untouched the entire way for a huge 63-yard punt return touchdown to give Tewksbury a 12-0 lead. That was the game's winning score.

"We had a wall on the left side and they had it set up really good. It was pretty easy for me, I just followed by blocks and (my teammates) did a great job of blocking for me," said Boudreau.

Then on Tewksbury's last possession with about a minute to go in the game and ahead 28-8, Boudreau took his first carry of the game straight through the middle of the Hillies defense for 17 yards for the last touchdown of the game to make it 34-8. He did kick the PAT, which he had missed two earlier in the game and that finished off the game, 35-8.

"This was a big win for us, it's the start of the MVC season and this is how we wanted it to start," said Boudreau.

And whoever thought it would start this good for Boudreau several months ago?

Fearless predictions department:

Two local wins Saturday

By JAMIE POTE
Sports Editor

All three teams that Wilmington, Tewksbury and Shawsheen are playing this week are winless. Does that mean it's an automatic win for the three locals come Saturday?

Well, I learned my lesson this week by picking Shawsheen to beat the winless Northeast Regional team 22-12; they lost 34-12. Who brought the smart kid?

Even though I'm doing better than Dr. D (5-1, compared to 18-9) and his picks, I'm not too happy about this weekend. Wilmington was supposed to travel to Triton for a 10:30 am game, but instead the game has been changed to WHS for 1:30 because Triton's field is being resodded. So that means I can't see the Tewksbury home opener against Lowell which is always a terrific rivalry matchup. Ugh! Instead I get to see an 0-3 Triton team which has scored 1 touchdown in three games. Yipeee! Kidding aside, it should be a Wilmington walk through. But this past weekend Amesbury gave them a better game that I thought, but I still feel as if Wilmington could and should have beaten them by more than two touchdowns regardless of how many injuries they had.

As for Wilmington, I'll say they will pitch the shut out, as long as they show up, over Triton, 42-0.

Tewksbury certainly has its hands full with Lowell. Faculty Manager Bob McCabe may have said it best: "Lowell could be the best 0-3 team in the state." He's probably right. I think this will be one, if not the best, game of the season to watch on the Tewksbury sidelines, with Tewksbury barely coming out on top 28-27.

As for Shawsheen, I think John McKanas gave them all a headache that won't go away this weekend. I think this game could either way, with St. Mary's of Lynn coming out on top under the Manning Bowl's lights, 20-12.

Wagstaff catches 3 for 2 TD's

Two games, six catches for 175 yards, and three touchdowns. That's the very impressive line for junior receiver Jay Wagstaff of Tewksbury High.

"We had big expectations for Wagstaff coming into the season and he has been outstanding," said head coach Brian Aylward after Wagstaff's two touchdown, three reception night for 135 yards in the team's first victory of the season over Haverhill, 35-8 on Friday night. "I just talked to him and we were talking about how he missed a ball (late in the game) that he should've hailed in. And he has to make those kinds of catches to get to that elite level.

"He's doing a real nice job, but we're not satisfied yet, we want him to get to that next level. But I wouldn't trade him for any other receiver in this league."

Last season Tewksbury went 2-8, battling inconsistencies in every aspect of the game. Tom Sullivan, the team's quarterback, had a favorite target in Mark Morris who has vacated the scene. Now it seems like the much improved tandem of Sullivan and Wagstaff have found a niche´ that have given teams a lot of trouble. Thus far Wagstaff has made three receptions in each of the first two games, while all three of his touchdowns have been very pretty to watch.

"This year our running game has opened up and that has let us throw the ball," he said. "Sully throws the ball wherever we want it, the other team can never get it. And our line has done a great job (of protecting him)."

Wagstaff claims there's one big reason for the team's big improvement on the field from a season ago.

"We're a whole new team," he said. "The captains are stepping up and they take control. I consider Sully a captain too, he's done a great job on the field."

Against Everett, Wagstaff scored the team's first touchdown of the season making a beautiful grab in the left end zone on a 20-yard pass from Sullivan on a huge (if not the biggest play of the season thus far) fourth down play. On Friday night, Wagstaff might not have caught a big touchdown pass against the number one rated team in the state, but he did catch two big touchdown passes against Haverhill, who might not be that strong this year, however, those two catches were instrumental of getting the team rolling with victories this season.

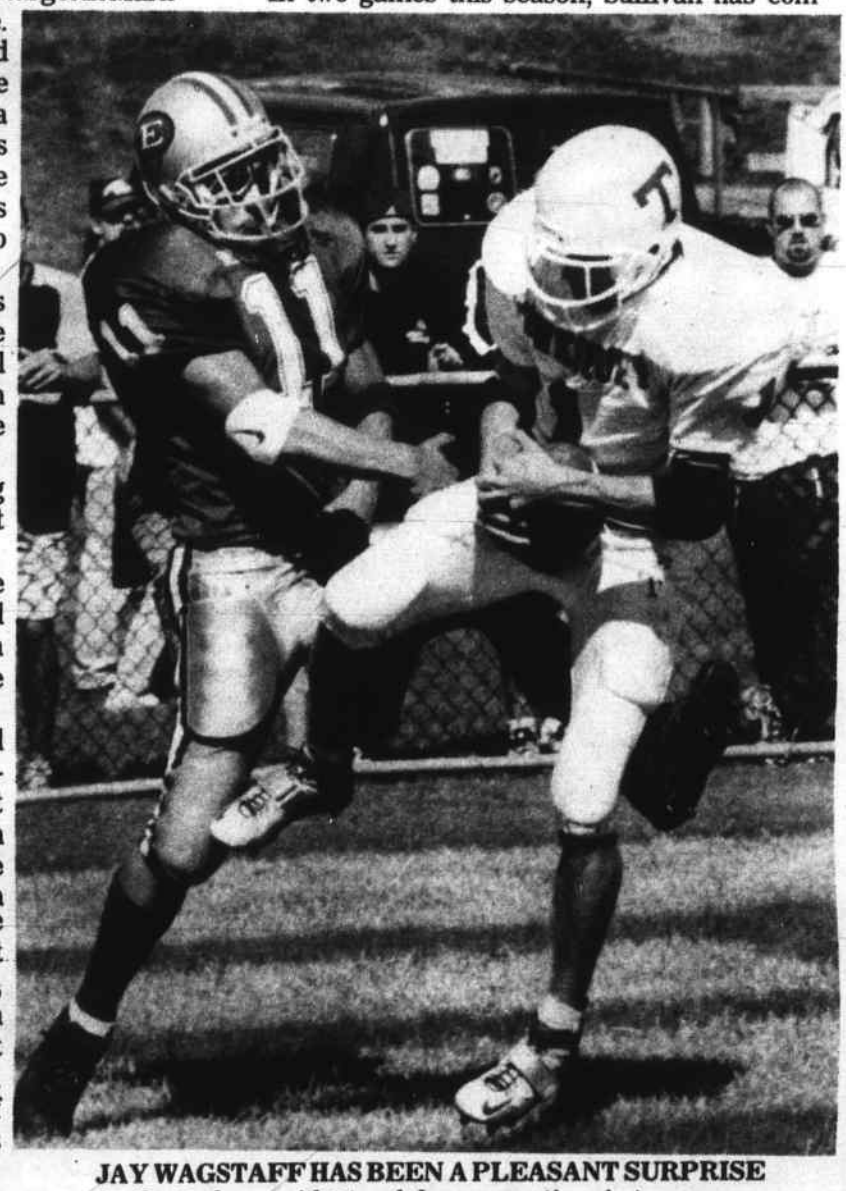

"Our defense," he answered about his success. "They shut Haverhill down allowing us back on the field quicker."

With Tewksbury ahead 14-0 early into the second quarter, Sully and Wagstaff decided it was time to make it their show. On its second play from scrimmage from the Haverhill 47 yard line, Sully tossed a quick pass over the middle that Wagstaff caught and quickly burnt the Haverhill defenders for a 47-yard score.

On Tewksbury's next possession, still in the second quarter, it took them just one play from scrimmage to find the end zone again. This time, Sully took three steps back, and fired a 59-yard bomb down the sidelines and quickly Wagstaff trotted in and the Red led 28-0 at halftime.

In two games this season, Sullivan has completed 17-of-36 passes for 269 yards. Wagstaff has 6 of those receptions and 175 of those yards. And half the time Wagstaff makes a catch he scores.

If Wagstaff keeps up this pace, he'll end his junior season with 15 touchdowns and 875 receiving yards.

Tewksbury - Lowell thumbnails

Saturday, October 2, 1:30 PM at Doucette Field

Records: Tewksbury 1-1 losing to Everett35-21, and beating Haverhill 35-8. Lowell is 0-3 losing to North Middlesex, and most recently Central Catholic.

Last Meeting: Lowell beat Tewksbury last year 15-14 in a heartbreaking loss. Lowell led 7-0 at halftime despite having as many first downs (9) than Tewksbury had total yards. Lowell had 192 total yards in the first half, but Tewksbury came back in the second with a splendid performance from quarterback Tom Sullivan who finished at 10-of-15 for 197 yards and a touchdown pass, with all of his ten completions coming in the latter half. Tewksbury's Erik Hamilton and Jay Stamp, two of this year's captains. scored the two touchdowns. but a fumble late in the game on a successful drive for Tewksbury ended the come from behind victory. Lowell's Raunny Rosario, one of the premier running backs in the state, "ran over, around and through Tewksbury's defense for 124 yards on 21 carries and scoring both touchdowns."

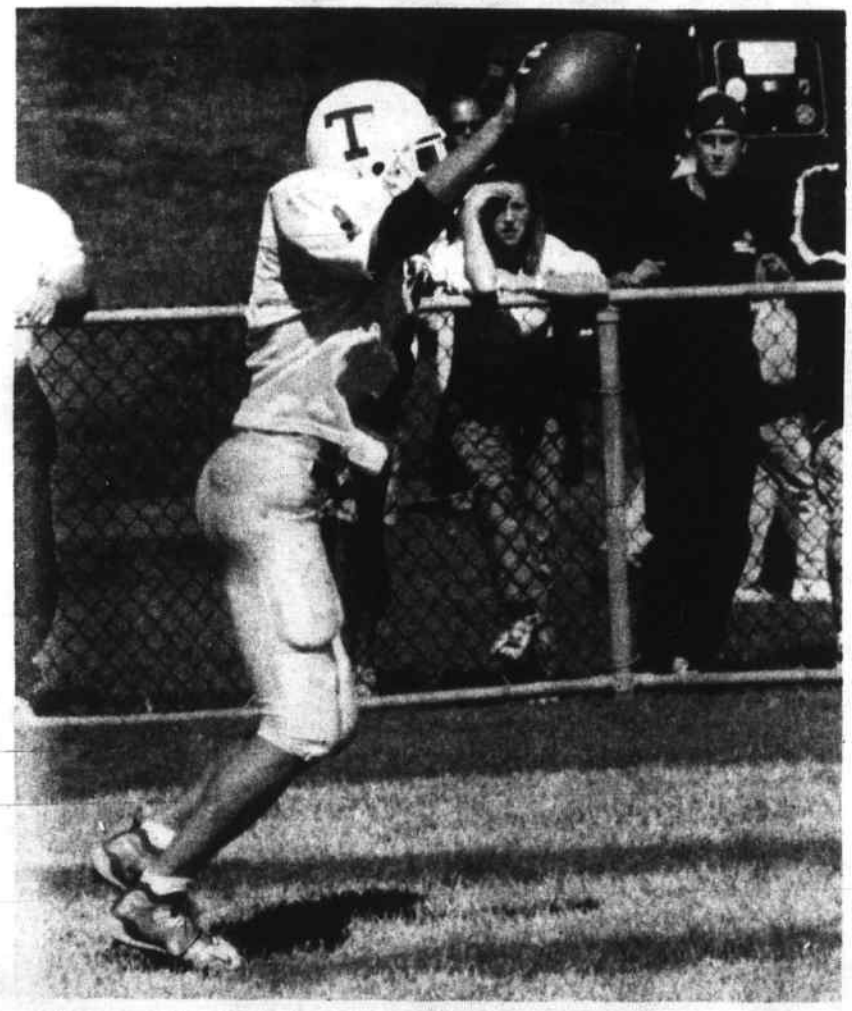

Miscellany: Junior Erik Nickerson taking over for the injured Hamilton, had his best varsity game on Friday with 81 yards on 11 carries...Lowell came back last week to tie Central at 14, only to see Tewkssbury native Brian Kobelski score late in the fourth quarter for the win...Rosario is still playing very well despite an injury...Lowell has scored just 33 points and has given up 76 this season...Sullivan is tied for third in Division 2 in touchdown passes with 5, tying Pat McNulty of Milton and trailing Chris Doneski of Billerica who has 7 and Norwood's John Falcone who has 6.

15-yard personal foul at the end of a Sullivan keeper that hurt. On first-and-goal from the Hillie 9, Carlson took a toss left and Nickerson cleared out the safety, enabling his teammate to skate into the end zone unscathed.

The teams traded punts before Haverhill was again pinned in their own territory, this time at the 21. They punted again, in the direction of junior Mark "Bo" Boudreau, who stood at his own 40 when the ball arrived. It went through his arms and landed on the turf at the 37, where he picked it up and took off. He beat one man and hit a huge hole, exploding up the sideline and into the end zone for the 63-yard touchdown. Carlson swept in for two points and the lead was 14-0 with 9:38 left in the half.

But Tewksbury was far from finished. After quarterback Sean Sughrue tried to scramble but ran into senior Bryan Deshler, who drove him to the ground for a 3-yard loss, Haverhill picked up a first down on a 9-yard run by Patrick Doile and an 8-yard completion from Sughrue to Todd Cormier. But the drive fizzled at their own 43 and they were forced to punt.

Wagstaff brought a 13-yard return back to the Tewksbury 35 and on first down, Nickerson blasted off right tackle for 18 yards. The next play went for 47, as Wagstaff sailed into the middle of the field uncovered, collected Sullivan's easy toss and coasted into the end zone. Boudreau's kick hit the crossbar but Tewksbury led 20-0 with 5:17 left.

Three plays and a punt from Haverhill later it was 28-0. On the first play of their next series, starting at their 41, Sullivan dropped back, saw Wagstaff to the left wide open and hit the receiver with another dead-on pass, this was going for 59 yards and another TD. Carlson added his second two-point conversion on a sweep.

The third quarter played out sloppy and scoreless. Tewksbury was flagged for three penalties for 25 yards and fumbled the ball twice, both times getting it back. Haverhill turned the ball over to the Redmen when Deshler tagged Doile, causing a fumble that junior Tom Costello recovered.

In the fourth quarter, Sullivan's lone interception on the night led to Haverhill's lone touchdown. They started at their 48-yard line and used six plays and a personal foul on Tewksbury to score. The touchdown came off a beauty of a catch from the Redmen 19-yard line as Jeff Molesso pulled a Sughrue pass off his thigh, collected it and sprinted into the end zone. Haverhill converted a two-point pass and it was 28-8 with 5:10 left in the game.

Tewksbury avenged the score when Boudreau sprinted up the middle for 17 yards, then added the kick to make it 35-8 with 34 second to go. The key play in the drive was one more Sully-to-Wagstaff connection, this time for 29 yards.
